NEW SECURITY PACT PRAISED BY DIPLOMATS

RIO TREATY HAILED AS SUNLIGHT IN A DARK WORLD

Washington, Sept. 4 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told the nation tonight that the new inter-American security pact is proof that "where nations are sincerely desirous of promoting the peace and well being of the world it can be done."

Marshall, with evident reference to long and difficult negotiations with Russia over European peace-making, declared that the task also can be accomplished "without frustrating delays and without much of the confusing and disturbing propaganda that has attended our efforts of the past two years."

The secretary spoke jointly with Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate foreign relations committee over national radio networks in a half-hour broadcast. Both men returned yesterday from the conference at Petropolis, Brazil, where the new inter-American pact was drafted and signed.

Senate Approval Sure

Both men hailed the accomplishments as an example for the United Nations in the development of world peace and Vandenberg called it "sunlight in a dark world."

Vandenberg said he would present the treaty to the senate for ratification "with every confidence that it will deserve prompt and enthusiastic approval."

The senator said the pact "throws maximum protections" around the Americas if their peace is menaced by armed attack "from any source whatever."

Marshall said of the treaty:

"I do not think it is an overstatement to say that this demonstration of trust and cooperation, this evidence of a willingness to adjust the many varied national points of view in order to make possible a unanimous agreement for the good of all, is the most encouraging, the most stimulating international action since the close of hostilities."

The secretary did not discuss in his brief radio talk any foreign policy questions other than the formulation of the new pact. He described the treaty as having committed the nations of the American hemisphere "to act collectively for the peace and security of the new world and to do this in accordance with the provisions of the charter of the United Nations."

Sideshow Barker Held For Blinding Boy, 10, Who Peeked

Detroit, Sept. 4 (AP)—A sideshow barker accused of blinding one eye of a ten-year-old boy who peeked under a tent at the Michigan State Fair pleaded innocent today to a charge of aggravated assault.

Roy B. Hix, 40, was placed under $10,000 bond and Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen set his examination for Monday.

Physicians said it was doubtful that the boy, Dickie Hinson, would be able to appear as a witness by that time. He was kicked in the eye as he lifted a canvas flap on a tent housing a two-headed calf exhibit.

BEVIN TARGET IN KENTUCKY—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin called on the United States to redistribute its vast hoard of gold stored at Fort Knox as one of the surest ways of restoring world economy. Some $12,500,000,000 of the nation's gold is stored deep in the vaults of this Fort Knox repository. (NEA Telephoto)

PULLMAN RATE BOOST GRANTED

Charges For Sleeping Car Services Go Up Next Month

Washington, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Pullman company today was given special Interstate Commerce Commission authority to raise its charges for sleeping car services on a sliding scale ranging from 1 to 48.9 per cent.

The company, which must give 20 days notice to the public, said it would aim to put the increases into effect Oct. 1.

Now owned and operated by the railroads, the company estimated the revision would bring in an additional $13,000,000 a year revenue. It told the commission the changes were necessary to meet steadily increasing operating costs.

Under the revisions, Pullman proposes to wipe out the present standard lower berth rates of $2.35, $2.65 and $2.95 applying to short over-night trips in many parts of the country, and establish instead a new minimum standard of $3.50.

Thus the present $2.35 sleeping car charge will increase 48.9 per cent, to $3.50. The charge for services costing more than that will be increased by a progressively lower percentage. On a $17.35 standard lower berth rate the increase will be one per cent. Where the rate is $17.70 or over, no increase will be made.

The rates for upper berths, room accommodations, exclusive use of standard cars for one-way trips, and tourist berths will be increased in the same proportion.

Kansas City Voters Paid After Casting Ballots, Court Told

Kansas City, Sept. 4. (AP)—Government witnesses testified today at a federal vote fraud trial they were given money after voting in the 1946 primary election.

None of the witnesses, however, identified any of the five defendants on trial as having given them the money. They said payments were made by men who escorted them to the polls.

The five defendants are among 34 persons indicted by a federal grand jury and charged with conspiracy to violate civil rights of voters and of depriving the government of its right to an honest election.

Government attorneys are seeking to show through the witnesses that ghost votes were cast in the primary election in which Enos Axtell, supported by President Truman, won the nomination in a three-way contest. He was defeated in the general election by Republican Albert Reeves.

Trunk In Burning Home Saved While Baby Dies In Fire

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 4. (AP)—Neighbors rushed into a burning house here last night to save a trunk and unknowingly left a four-month-old boy to die in the flames as they carried the trunk outside.

"They didn't know the baby was there," said Assistant Fire Marshall C. W. Hayes, who told of the Negro infant dying in the same room where neighbors seized the trunk.

He said several persons were within a few feet of the infant but didn't see him because of the smoke.

Diplomats Puzzled By Bevin Gold Talk

BY ED CREAGH

London, Sept. 4. (AP) — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's trade union speech urging distribution of U. S. gold was still causing bewilderment and concern in foreign diplomatic quarters tonight, along with speculation as to its possible effect on Anglo - American relations.

Evidence existed that the foreign office itself — which crisply declined any comment — was puzzled by Bevin's key proposals before the British Trade Union Congress yesterday — redistribution of the "Fort Knox gold" and a close tightening of economic and defense links within the empire.

The only light on the gold suggestion came from an authoritative American source who said Bevin, in a 70-minute talk today with a delegation of visiting American congressmen who are investigating economic conditions here and in Europe, had explained he viewed redistribution of the U. S. gold stocks as an integral part of the Marshall plan for European revival.

He was said to have made the assertion that the proposal has the backing of the British government and that the idea had been previously advanced informally in a conversation with U. S. Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas. Exchanges between the U. S. state department and British foreign office were expected on the proposal.

The American informant said Bevin made these points, which were received "somewhat skeptically" by the U. S. congressmen:

It is unsound economics and out of harmony with the principles of international trade espoused by the United States for one country to hold most of the world's monetary gold and not use it.

There would be no lasting European economic settlement if recovery was to depend on never-ending U. S. loans.

Gold could become the basis of world currency systems and every nation should have access to it.

BRITAIN'S COAL STRIKE SPREADS

Fuel Famine Threatened As 60,000 Miners Join Walkout

By JACK SMITH

London, Sept. 4 (AP) — Britain's three-weeks old coal strike spread to new mines today, leaving 60,000 miners idle and threatening a fuel famine and factory shut-downs to aggravate the nation's economic crisis.

Newspaper surveys showed 54 collieries affected by the walkout, 38 of them totally out of production, all in Yorkshire, a northern England county.

Arthur Horner, secretary general of the National Union Mine Workers—which has condemned the walkouts—said he feared the stop-work movement would spread to the Kent coal fields in southeast England.

Industrial coal piles dwindled in the Yorkshire area and many factories already were curtailing production. The Sheffield Gas Company, serving some of the world's biggest producers, asked consumers voluntarily to cut consumption by up to 52 percent.

The strike began at Grimethorpe, a Yorkshire mining town, when some 2,000 workers quit in protest against a government-union decision to increase their daily "stint," the size of the coal face each man works. Other collieries came out in sympathy.

Larger Field Staff For State Revenue Work Recommended

Lansing, Sept. 4 (AP)—A recommendation for the expansion of the state revenue department's field staff to increase the state's tax income was contained in the first audit of the agency in its history.

Made public today, the audit was prepared by Peat, Harwick, Mitchell and Company, Detroit public accountants. The auditor general's office lacked the staff to conduct the work.

The auditors proposed increasing the field staff from 173 to 250, exclusive of the men needed to enforce the new cigarette tax.

It was pointed out that the department seeks to check the books of sales, use and intangible taxpayers every three years, since claims older than three years are outlawed. The auditors said the staff was falling behind this schedule and that the state was probably losing revenue as a result.

The department's financial procedures were rated "generally satisfactory."

WOMAN BEATEN, PUT IN FURNACE

Victim Survives, Tells How Robbers Made Off With $300

Creston, Ia., Sept. 4. (AP)—The two assailants who beat Mrs. Fred Welcher, 57, into unconsciousness and stuffed her into the firebox of an unlighted furnace before fleeing with nearly $300 still were at large tonight.

Chief of Police William M. Hiatt said that Mrs. Welcher, hospitalized with severe shock, had not been well enough to give full details of the episode.

Mrs. Welcher was found by two policemen after they heard low moans from the Welcher basement early today.

Mrs. Welcher had been gagged, bound with wire, and thrust feet first through the large double door of the furnace. She is a slight woman weighing 97 pounds.

"I was sitting at home alone and when I looked up there were these two men," Chief Hiatt quoted her. "One of them said, 'Give me the money or we'll tear you to pieces.' I told them I didn't have any money. They slapped me and then one of them kicked me hard in the back. That's the last I remember."

Hiatt said the men then ransacked the place and found the purse which contained nearly $300 in cash which Mrs. Welcher's husband, a Burlington railroad conductor, had left before going out on his run yesterday.

Police were called when Mrs. Welcher's son, Kenneth, 32, a railroad dispatcher, returned from his night trick shortly after midnight to find his mother missing and Jack, the old family dog, bruised and cut.

ITALY MAKES URGENT PLEA FOR U. S. HELP

FUNDS ARE NEEDED TO BUY ESSENTIAL FOOD AND FUEL

BY JOHN SCALI

Washington, Sept. 4. (AP)—Italy has made an urgent appeal to the United States for swift financial help to buy food and fuel, diplomats said today.

Meantime American officials studied the question of calling Congress to a special session to consider Europe's economic troubles.

This question will have to be decided by President Truman after his return from Brazil. Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett said yesterday that the economic situation in Britain, France and other European countries is deteriorating faster than expected.

Diplomatic informants said Italy has informed the United States that she must have swift financial help to buy essential food and fuel during the next four months.

Danger Spot Watched

The Italian ambassador is said to have told Lovett his country is so desperately short of funds it may have to cancel all American coal purchases scheduled for October delivery. Italy's imports of U. S. coal have averaged more than 700,000 tons a month.

Some American officials, while not overlooking the plight of Britain and France, made it plain they regard hard-pressed Italy as the danger spot to watch because the Communist party there can be expected to capitalize on any disruption in the flow of food and coal supplies.

Meanwhile, with Congress in recess, the administration came under increasing Republican criticism.

Senator Hawkes (R-N. J.) told a news conference that Congress should not be "handicapped or obligated" by financial commitments to other countries made by the executive branch of the government.

Asked if he referred to the Marshall plan for European recovery, Hawkes replied: "I mean any plan. Plans should be developed without obligation and should be submitted to Congress.

"Congress should not be obligated in giving away the peoples' money or in making unsound loans."

British Catch On

Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) said in a statement that "Congress at some point in the near future will be obliged to curb the Truman administration's reckless policy of foreign expenditures."

Bender contended that Mr. Truman is "moving from one international crisis to another in order to establish himself as a leader who should not be abandoned in the midst of a virtual state of war."

Senators Flanders (R-Vt.) and Tydings (D-Md.) told a reporter they oppose a special session.

"We ought to put an end to government by crisis," Flanders said. "We have had government by crisis all during the New Deal, and apparently the British have caught on to the idea."

California Killing Linked To Eastern Bookmakers Ring

San Francisco, Sept. 4 (AP)—Attorney General Fred N. Howser today linked the gangland machine-gunning of Bugsy Siegel to a California bookmaking war, and said his agents had uncovered two "very good suspects."

In response to reporters questions, Howser said the suspects were "eastern" bookmakers whose whereabouts were known to the California department of justice.

Siegel, Southern California underworld figure and Nevada gambling operator, was shot June 20 in the Beverly Hills home of raven haired Virginia Hill.

The Siegel killing followed shortly after the garroting in San Francisco of Nick De John, one-time minor Chicago hoodlum. It stirred California's officialdom to voice belief this state had become an easy money goal of eastern racketeers migrating westward.

"We are closer to cracking this case than anybody has been—it looks good," Howser said. "The racing wire services were the whole meat of the case.

SAFE LOOT BURIED

Cheboygan, Mich., Sept. 4. (AP)—Jack Hartman, 19, waived examination in justice court yesterday on a safe breaking charge and was ordered held for trial. He was unable to furnish $2,000 bond. Police said Hartman led them to $1,380 buried in his back yard which had been taken from a Mackinaw City fish market where he was employed.

Moslem-Hindu War Threatens In India; Butchery Is Bared

BY G. MILTON KELLY

New Delhi, India, Sept. 4 (AP)—Officials of India and Pakistan, who went their independent ways as dominions less than a month ago, were obliged to undertake joint action today as a result of virtual anarchy which has engulfed the vast rich Punjab and threatens to spread into a Moslem-Hindu war.

A new case of appalling butchery came to light with arrival of a courier from a remote section of Pakistan Punjab who said a small Hindu military force sent into Shakirgarh district, 55 miles southeast of Sialkot, to protect 120,000 Sikhs and Hindus had found only 1,500 known survivors and the roads, fields and villages littered with thousands of bodies of victims. Only 2,000 were known to have escaped into adjoining Jammu state.

Mohandas K. Gandhi ended his fast at Calcutta, however, three days and one hour after declaring he would go without food "until sanity return to Calcutta." His physician earlier had reported he was growing steadily weaker.

All had been quiet in the city since Wednesday night.

India's leaders had feared that if anything ill befell the aged Mahatma as a result of the fast that the 40,000,000 Moslems in the Indian dominion would have to pay a terrible price at the hands of enraged Hindus.

In Lahore, capital of the province before it was divided, looters were openly selling in the streets the goods stolen from shops whose owners were slain. Looting and stabbing of any Sikh who wandered from his guarded place of safety were a daily occurence. Police enforcement of the laws was almost non-existent. Wide stretches of the city were in ruins. Tax collection had collapsed. There was hardly any banking. Hundreds of shops and factories were closed. Planes and troop-guarded trains were about the only communication with the outside world. The Shakirgarh district is accessible at this time of year only by military truck built for heavy going.

Conditions similar to that in Lahore, a city formerly of 500,600 population, existed in many other places on both sides of the border.

YOUTHS SHOOT AT FISHERMEN

Pontiac Man Wounded, Others Escape; Boys With Rifle Hunted

Detroit, Sept. 4. (AP)—Police today sought two youths who fired a fusilade of shots at three boatloads of fishermen on Long lake in suburban Oakland county Wednesday night.

One of the fishermen, John Artis, 68, of Detroit was reported in serious condition at St. Joseph's hospital in Pontiac. He was shot in the left leg and side.

Six other persons, including Detroit Weatherman W. W. Oak, escaped injury as at least 30 shots splashed into the water around their boats or whined overhead.

State police and Oakland county sheriff's officers said the two youths apparently used a .22 caliber rifle.

Oak gave police a dramatic description of the shooting.

He said that he was out on the lake with his two daughters, Mrs. Jean Taggert, 24, and Mrs. Helen Kries, 26, of Jacksonville, Fla., when the shooting began.

"At first we thought we were in line with a target on shore, but then we saw two boys standing in a field on the south shore of the lake about a quarter of a mile away," Oak recounted.

He continued:

"They were deliberately shooting at us. They stopped shooting at our boat after I yelled repeatedly at them and started firing at another boat nearby.

"I guess they didn't like that fellow's voice, for they kept firing when he told them to stop.

"They finally ran out of bullets or something for they walked slowly off through a field."

Powerful Peruvian Swimmer Masters English Channel

Dover, England, Sept. 5 (Friday) (AP)—Daniel Carpio, powerful Peruvian distance swimmer, hit the English coast one mile west of Dover early today to become the first person to swim the treacherous English Channel since Sweden's Sally Bauer on Aug. 28, 1939.

Carpio made the arduous crossing in 14 hours and 46 minutes.

He started from Cap Griz Nez, France, only about 19 miles away, but waves and currents forced him to swim for 42 miles.

Miss Bauer made her crossing of the channel only a week before England entered World War II

The 35-year-old Peruvian swims with a powerful crawl stroke, keeping his body high in the water, and making 20 to 22 strokes per minute.

Carpio's time was 15 minutes slower than that of the famous American, Gertrude Ederle, who crossed the channel on June 6, 1926, and was acclaimed as a national heroine when she came home to the United States.

Experimenters Cool Milk Inside Cows At Louisiana State

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 4 (AP)—They're cooling milk inside the cows at Louisiana State university.

Dr. D. M. Seath, of the L. S. U. Experiment Station staff, said today that a few fortunate animals are receiving shower baths daily. The idea is to see if a cool cow produces more milk than a hot cow, he said.

He said by sprinkling a cow its temperature can be brought down a full degree.

HOPPER ATTACK DAMAGES CROPS

Insects In Drifts Along Lake Michigan Shore Near Sheboygan

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 4 (AP) — Grasshoppers were piled in drifts along a 10-mile stretch of Lake Michigan shoreline today as farmers fought an infestation of the insects which already had damaged crops to the extent of thousands of dollars loss.

Farmers in Sheboygan and Ozaukee counties said the grasshoppers were washed ashore and that, while many of them drowned other thousands revived in the sun and moved inland to feast on second crop alfalfa and potatoes. Residents of the area were shoveling the insects up by the basketful.

At Madison the state department of agriculture urged farmers to obtain a poison, sodium fluosilicate, from county agents for immediate application. The department said speed was necessary because the grasshoppers were laying eggs.

Exact origin of the insects was unknown, but a spokesman for the department said they apparently came from the plains states on a west wind or from Michigan on an east breeze. When the winds died they dropped into the lake and were washed up on the shore here.

Teen-Agers Torture Companion 2 Weeks In Mountain Cabin

Mountain Home, Idaho, Sept. 4 (AP)—Torturing of 14-year-old Joseph Cannon for nearly two weeks in an isolated mountain cabin was charged to two 'teen age youths in a complaint filed yesterday in Elmore county probate court.

Prosecutor Perce Hall said Don Elders, 17, and LeRoy Landers, Jr., 16, waived a preliminary hearing on felony charges of mayhem during arraignment before Probate Judge A. F. Anderson.

Hall said Cannon accused his companions of imprisoning him for 13 days, burning him with gasoline, slashing him with knives and battering him with tug chains from a horse harness. Cannon was quoted by Hall as saying he did not know the reason for the attacks.

Hall said Young Cannon claimed he was held from Aug. 18 to Sept. 1 in the isolated cabin, suffering abuse until he escaped and fled to his father's residence.

BANK GIVES SAMPLES

Seattle, Sept. 4 (AP)—It finally has happened — a bank gave away samples.

All visitors today to the open house of the Queen Anne branch of the National Bank of Commerce in newly enlarged quarters received a rosebud, punch and cookies and a penny, for "good luck."

GLOOMY PRICE PICTURE GIVEN TO CONSUMER

EGGS, BUTTER AND MEAT HEAD FOR $1 PLUS LEVEL

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)— The nation's food bill is already at the year's high, but the consumer was warned today that the worst is yet to come.

Only "consumer resistance" can halt the advent of $1 a dozen eggs, $1 a pound butter and $1 plus meat, authorities.

Consumers, wondering how they could "resist" eating, were given a few tips by public officials and spokesmen for meat and grocery industries:

Buy the cheaper cuts of meat and learn how to cook them appetizingly: Buy the eggs graded below "top extras"; return to the wartime leaning on spaghetti and other "substitutes"; buy fresh fruits and vegetables, which are almost the only food stuffs not advancing in price currently.

Feed Grains Climb

The gloomy price picture for fall and winter came from all sides—from restaurant owners, from meat industry spokesmen, from market commissioners, from food chain store officials; from packing house executives and retail store spokesmen.

The gloomy news on present prices came from the produce and grain exchanges where today food and feed grains, butter, eggs and meat continued to climb on the spot wholesale markets.

A spokesman for the National Restaurant Association said: "The way meat prices are going up, we'll not be able to serve meat and still hold the line in meal prices."

John F. Frey, chairman of the American Meat Institute, said in Chicago: "Meat supplies will drop in the year ahead, leaving consumers even more meat-hungry than now."

Peak Not Reached

Samuel Morganroth, counsel for the New York Association of Retail Dealers, said: "Prices of better grades of meat will continue to go up; the peak has not been reached."

Eugene G. Schulz, New York's Markets commissioner, said retail prices were ranging from $1 a pound for porterhouse steak to 49 cents for chopped meat and "would go higher."

He predicted boosts in the prices of eggs and butter, and retail trade sources said $1 butter and $1 eggs were in the offing. Butter went up 2 cents a pound on the New York Produce Exchange today. Eggs were selling at 82 to 92 cents a dozen in New York.

Macaroni and spaghetti manufacturers said their products had been in increasing demand for a month.

The New England anti-trust division of the U. S. Department of Justice said widespread resentment against the high prices was being registered by the public.

POTATOES FOR SPAIN

Madrid, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Spanish foreign office announced tonight the signing of an Irish-Spanish trade accord in Dublin. The pact provides for the importation by Spain of 10,000 tons of potatoes during 1947 and 1948 and the sending of 7,000 tons of fertilizer from Spain to Erie during the same period.

No Action Taken On Milk License Request

Pending receipt and study of the milk ordinance of the city of Beloit, Wis., and other information concerning the milk situation, the city council, at its regular meeting last night, deferred action on the request of the Delta Provision company to sell milk obtained from Milwaukee concerns, in Escanaba.

The matter was tabled until the next meeting following a lengthy discussion in which representatives of the Delta firm and Escanaba milk dealers expressed their views.

At the last meeting, several local dealers, residents of Escanaba, declared they were opposed to granting a license to the Delta firm unless its milk would be required to come under the same rigid inspection and tests as required of Escanaba dealers.

Building Permits

Last night, it was intimated that "outsiders" should be kept out as a means of protecting local dealers and facilitating the "building up of local herds." Mayor Marvin L. Coon, expressing the opinion of the council, said the matter would be investigated thoroughly before any action was taken.

Several building permits were acted upon last night. Walter Dickson was granted permission to make a two-family dwelling of his residence at 523 Ogden avenue, subject to the approval of neighbors, and a like provision covered granting permission to Charles Draves to construct a permanent enclosure on the porch at his residence at 225 North 19th street.

Robert Liedtke was granted permission to construct a garage for use as a temporary residence at South 23rd street and Third avenue, pending construction of a permanent dwelling. He was given until Jan. 1, 1950.

The Family Baking company, 300 block, South 15th street, was given permission to make necessary footing improvements at its building.

Study Fire Report

The council approved construction of gas pumps at the garage of the Clairmont Motor Service at 1416 Washington avenue.

It also approved a request by John Gannon for an SDM liquor license at 402 Stephenson avenue and tabled the request of the Solar Furniture company for city aid in installation of a fire sprinkler system in the city-owned building it occupies.

The city tax payment date was extended from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15.

The Escanaba fire department report concerning the status of department equipment and ability to cope with the city's fire fighting needs was placed on file.

It was pointed out that the recommendations and conclusions drawn by City Engineer Loren W. Jenkins and Fire Chief Jerry Jerou would be given careful consideration at the council's next budget session.

Will Escanaba Remain On Fast Time All Year?

Whether Escanaba will remain on fast (Eastern Standard) time the year 'round remains a moot question.

Advantages and disadvantages of remaining on fast time, which prevailed here during the war years, was discussed at length by the city council at its meeting last night, but the matter was tabled until the next session Thursday, Sept. 18.

Attention was called to the fact that in a referendum city-wide vote taken last February, electors approved year 'round fast time by a margin of 1,585 to 1,186.

Although no official action was taken toward approving fast time all year long, the advantages of fast time, providing one more hour of daylight in the late afternoon during winter months, were emphasized, and the concensus was that it, at least, should be prolonged.

The matter of synchronizing time in the Upper Peninsula as much as possible also was discussed and plans were made to present the question at the meeting of the Michigan Municipal league in Marquette Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Council Proposes Thorough Study Of City Water Supply

Acting upon the recommendation of City Manager A. V. Aronson and Wilbur T. Stuart, engineer in charge of the ground water division, geological survey, U. S. department of interior, the city council last night agreed to investigate the cost of a thorough expert study of Escanaba's water supply before any further action is taken toward increasing and improving the supply.

The council also approved the releasing of two checks received from the bidders in response to a request for bids on the construction and drilling of a new artesian well to augment the city water supply. It was the concensus of the council that a "thorough study" by experts was necessary before any further action be taken.

The city manager pointed out that water consumption in Escanaba has increased and that he had discussed the matter fully with Mr. Stuart.

Parade Misses; But Abhorrers Of Long Skirts Give Show

The "horror hemline" opposers of Escanaba had their say Wednesday night at Rose Park. This, despite a scheduled parade which went awry because of confusion and some timidity on the part of the demonstrators.

Planes circled overhead so there was something in the air. Only one advocate of the "little below the knees group" turned out for the parade from the House of Ludington. Scouts and cyclists as well as a police escort were also on hand. The young lady rode the back of the motorcycle to the park where the band concert was given under the direction of Al Shomento.

There, a crowd of male and female fashion rebels, was heard a tantalizing program promulgating the farcical and inhuman aspects of the new vogue in woman's clothing. There were parodies on the situation rendered to the melody of "Heartaches", "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" and "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now." One catch-line was "We wonder who started that vogue, we would like to catch that rogue," etc.

Meanwhile the group reports that more petitioners are registered each day.

At the park Trudy and Robert MacKerroll reviewed a group of five in the clothing of days gone by and discussed, with the audience, the undesirability of such a fashion.

"Western States" Puts In Harbor

The "Western States" side wheeler of the Detroit, Cleveland Transporation company, put into Escanaba harbor Tuesday at 10 a. m., for a three hour visit in the city.

The boat enroute from Mackinac Island to Ontario ports, has not been here in five years.

The ship's captain reported to City Manager A. V. Aronson that the harbor was favorable and that the vessel may be back this season.

Briefly Told

China Veteran Here—Cpl. James R. Moore, USMC, veteran of two years in the Chinese theater, is spending a week in Escanaba visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Moore, 429 Ogden avenue. Corporal Moore has been in the Marine Corps service for the past four years and is now on furlough. Following a week spent with his parents in Detroit he will report to Oceanside, Calif., for duty.

* * *

Accepted for Enlistment—Donald Lamberg, Gladstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lamberg, and Peter L. Semaahko. Gladstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter K. Lamberg, have been accepted by the United States Armq for three years enlistment in the Air Force.

* * *

Bound To Circuit Court — George Nelson, 1300 Second avenue south, has been bound over to Circuit court for trial. Arraignment, following a charge of assault with rape intent, was completed Thursday afternoon. Bond is set at $2,000.

* * *

Lay Culverts—The City of Escanaba is laying 24-inch culverts at 22nd and Ludington street, it was announced yesterday by the city manager. The bridge will be eliminated by this construction.

* * *

Building Permits Granted — Building permits totalling $5400 were issued yesterday by the office of the city clerk. Robert Johnson was given a permit to build a house at 706 North 19th street and R. B. Mitchell was granted a permit for two garages, one at 801 South 14th street, the other at 1400 11th avenue south.

* * *

Army Captain Transferred—Capt. Walter T. Meyers, in command of the Army and Air Force Recruiting station in Escanaba for the past year, until relieved recently by Major Edwin Leer, left Thursday for Detroit for re-assignment.

* * *

Attends 4-H School — Robert Peterson of Soo Hill has been selected to attend a 4-H club conservation school to be held at Higgins Lake Sept. 8 to 12, inclusive, it was announced yesterday by M. N. Nyquist, county 4-H agent. Nyquist will accompany Peterson to Higgins Lake. The school is conducted by the department of conservation.

Gets Primary Money — Three Delta county school districts have received a total of $29,500 in advance primary school money from the state, with the disbursement made through the office of the county treasurer. Gladstone city received $15,000; Ensign $2,500; Masonville $12,000.

* * *

Immunization Clinic—The regular Friday afternoon immunization clinic will be conducted by Dr. William Harrison at the health center building today between 2 and 4 p. m.

* * *

Games Party—There will be a public games party given by St. Ann's parish at St. Joseph's hall at 8 on Sunday evening.

* * *

Stamp Collectors—The September meeting of the Escanaba Philatelic society will be held at 3 Sunday afternoon in the council chambers at the city hall. All stamp collectors of Escanaba and vicinity are invited to attend.

BIDS FOR CITY LOTS ACCEPTED

Sewer Assessments In Two Additions Approved

Having submitted the highest offers on the advertised sale of certain city lots, bids of two Bark River residents and of the Fence Company of America, an Escanaba concern, were accepted by the city council at its meeting last night.

The high bids accepted were: Arthur Saindon, Route 2, Bark River, $350 for lot No. 3, Block 18, . Stephenson company addition; Albert Kurbacki, Route 1, Bark River, $275 each for lots 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 in the city center addition, and Fence Company of America, $250 each for two lots, one at South 15th street and 13th avenue South and one at South 14th street and 13th avenue South.

The council also approved a resolution calling for special assessments against property owners for extension of sanitary sewers to Block 41 and 42 in the I. Stephenson company addition and to the Art Goulais addition south of the Escanaba Golf club course.

2,800 Enrolled In City Schools; Increase 122

The crop of wartime babies is growing up and starting school.

Enrollment in Escanaba public schools totals 2,800 and is 122 above last year at this time, with most of the increase in the grades, according to figures released yesterday by John Lemmer, Escanaba superintendent of schools.

The kindergarten showed the largest increase of any grade—46 above last year. The first grade enrollment increased 16 for a total of 62 in the first two grades, indicating that Escanaba's population has grown materially in the past few years.

Because of the larger enrollment the auditoriums in the Barr and Jefferson schools are being used for classrooms. At the Barr there is a fourth and fifth grade combination class in the auditorium, and at the Jefferson there is a second grade class in the auditorium. Transfers of some pupils was necessary from the Washington to the Webster, and from the Jefferson to the Barr. The total number of transferred students was about 25.

There are a total of 319 pupils in the Barr school compared with 268 last year; at the Franklin 225 compared with 205; Jefferson 250 to 239; Washington 266 to 288 (the only grade school where the number of pupils declined); and the Webster 367 to 321 last year.

At the Franklin school kindergarten had been scheduled for only a half-day. Because there are 38 kindergarten pupils enrolled, however, it may be necessary to have a kindergarten class for both morning and afternoon, Supt. Lemmer said.

The number of students in Junior high school increased by 26, while in Senior high there was a decline of seven.

The Catherine Bonifas Technical school had a total pupil registration of 351, indicating the community's need for vocational training facilities.

Following is the enrollment by grades in the city schools, with the 1946 enrollment figure for comparison:

Grade	1947	1946
Kindergarten	253	207
First	230	214
Second	199	194
Third	191	206
Fourth	209	174
Fifth	181	164
Sixth	164	162
Junior High	619	593
Senior High	701	708

Obituary

MRS. ALICE ROBINSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Robinson were held at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Patrick's church, with Rev. Fr. Martin B. Melican offering the requiem high mass. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Six nephews. Leo, Robert, Hubert, Raymond and Lawrence Boudreau and Adelore Boudreau Jr., were pallbearers.

Those from out-of-town at the rites were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chaput, Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beauchamp, Mrs. Rose Richer and Mrs. John B. Gerou, of Perkins.

WILLIAM MacELROY

Final rites for William MacElroy will be held at St. Patrick's church this morning at 9 o'colck, with Rev. Fr. Sebastian Maier celebrant of the requiem high mass. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Lumbermen Will Meet At Gateway

Oshkosh, Wis. — The regular quarterly meeting of the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers association compoosed of Michigan-Wisconsin lumber manufacturers together with associated forest industry groups scheduled for September 5 and 6 at Kings Gateway hotel at Land O'Lakes promises to be one of more than usual interest to members and guests because of certain market changes within the industry.

The condition of hardwood and softwood lumber outlets will be reviewed with particular attention to prospective lumber needs of railroads, furniture manufacturers, and flooring mills, as well as log requirements of pulp mills and veneer producers. The commercial application of wood research developments is another subject on the program.

Housing continues to be an all important topic and this will be discussed by R. G. Colgan, Washington, D. C., Executive Vice-President of the National Lumber Manufacturers association, who will also sketch the legislative picture as related to the timber industries.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shepeck, Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Venne, Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. John Landon, Mr. and Mrs. William Acker of Nahma are expected to attend this meeting.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"
Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Record at Straits

TRAFFIC at the Straits of Mackinac established a new record over the Labor Day weekend, with 19,680 vehicles carried across the straits during the four day period from Saturday to Tuesday, inclusive.

During the rush periods motorists were required to wait in long queues for hours for their turn to make the crossing on the state ferries.

This condition brings up once more the question why the state highway department has refused to complete and put into use the causeway near St. Ignace which would reduce the ferry distance across the straits from approximately nine miles to only three miles. More than $600,000 was spent six years ago in constructing the 4,085 foot causeway, which now lies idle. Completion of the project, including paving of the causeway, laying intersecting link to US-2 and construction of docks at the end of the causeway would materially speed up ferry traffic across the straits, even if nothing ever was done towards the building of a tunnel or bridge for highway traffic across the straits.

The highway department is now engaged on a broad and expensive program to widen highway US-2 along the approach to St. Ignace and in acquiring additional property within the city itself, which would serve only to provide more road space for travelers awaiting their turn on the ferries but which would do nothing at all to speed up the flow of traffic across the straits.

Even if weather conditions at certain seasons of the year would make it hazardous to use the new causeway and the shorter ferry run across the straits, as some people contend, it is obvious that the short run could be utilized during the heavy traffic period which extends from Memorial Day through the deer season.

To the layman, who has never been able to understand the highway department's opposition to the causeway improvement, it seems as reasonable to build and use the shorter ferry route across the straits, even if it had to be abandoned for the winter months, as it was to construct and use the Soo Locks, even though the locks are frozen five months of the year.

One thing is certain. Traffic at the straits in the years ahead will increase, rather than decrease. The problem that now exists will be multiplied proportionately unless something is done to correct a bad situation.

Air Service Coming

ANNOUNCEMENT by Nationwide Airlines that it will start commercial air service between Escanaba and Detroit as soon as the runway extension project in Escanaba is completed, probably within two to three weeks, is welcome news to local residents.

Wisconsin Central Airlines, which has been given CAB approval for a route which also includes Escanaba, recently announced that it will inaugurate its service soon with Electra twin-engine planes. Wisconsin Central, however, does not plan to include a stop at Escanaba immediately but is awaiting completion of the federal-aid airport project at Escanaba, work on which is scheduled to start this month or next.

Menominee will be included on the initial route planned by Wisconsin Central and it is entirely possible that the airline could be encouraged to inaugurate its route with a stop at Escanaba included if the airlines were properly appraised of the airport developments at Escanaba.

The present east-west runway extension, which is being accomplished without federal aid and is not included in the project that has been approved by the federal government, will permit the landing and takeoff of the Nationwide Airlines DC-3. This type plane is considerably larger than the Lockheed Electras that Wisconsin Central Airlines will use on its routes through Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois.

Obviously if the Nationwide Airlines can use the Escanaba airport for its DC-3's, Wisconsin Central certainly can use the same airport for its smaller Lockheed Electras. This is particularly true since Wisconsin Central plans all flights in the initial operation during daylight contact hours.

An Offer to Mankind

THE offer by the American government to share with nations all over the world radioactive elements produced in the United States atomic ovens is a forward step in the international campaign against disease and particularly in the fight against cancer.

Although the offer to share radioactive elements with other nations may appear on the surface to be a generous contribution from the American government to mankind throughout the world, American scientists are not unmindful of the fact that our generosity may in the end return benefits to us manyfold. The use of these relatively low-cost radioactive elements produced in American atomic ovens may make it possible for some foreign scientist to discover a cure for cancer and thereby save the lives of countless Americans as well as people of other nationalities.

In exchange for the privilege of securing radioactive elements from the United States, foreign governments using the materials will be required to make progress reports to the American Atomic Energy Commission every six months and to open their laboratories to qualified scientists throughout the world. The purpose of this, of course, is to assure free exchange of scientific knowledge in the international campaign against cancer and other diseases, as well as other advancements in the field of science than will benefit mankind generally.

The manufacture of radioactive elements in atomic ovens constitutes one of the first humanitarian benefits from American atomic research. Such elements also can be produced in cylotrons, which many foreign governments already possess, but they cannot be produced as cheaply or in such volume as in atomic ovens, which only the United States now possesses.

The American offer for international use of radioactive elements produced in this country is designed to accomplish on a small scale what could be accomplished on a broad scale if the Amercan plan for international atomic energy control were put into effect by the United Nations. This plan, which proposes to give security to all nations against atomic bomb attacks while making the benefits of atomic research available to all peoples, has been consistently balked by the opposition of Soviet Russia.

Join the National Guard

ON SEVERAL occasions in the past we have pointed out in these columns the benefits and advantages of enlistment in the National Guard. To those men who are anxious to give patriotic service to their country without forfeiting their own jobs, enlistment in the National Guard is the answer. It also provides a means to earn a few extra dollars monthly to supplement their income.

The National Guard is planning an extensive recruiting campaign beginning Tuesday, Sept. 16. Company C of the 107th Engineer Battalion is located in Escanaba and the company has a number of openings immediately available.

Enlistments are open both to men with previously military experience and to men who have had no military experience. Some particularly fine ratings are available to men who can qualify.

We heartily recommend that young men in Escanaba and vicinity investigate what the National Guard has to offer for them.

WHY HOUSES COST MORE

Thousands of persons are interested in getting new houses, but most of them feel they can't afford to pay what the price tags call for.

They and many others wonder why new houses today cost so much. An answer is provided by the National Association of Home Builders. It has issued a table showing the comparative cost of building identical brick houses in an eastern city in 1941 and 1947. The house in 1941 cost $6,040; this year, it was $10,779.

The Association points out that 75 to 80 per cent of the cost is represented by labor. Some of the labor takes place where materials are prepared; some on the site where the house is being built. Off-site labor costs have gone up 96 per cent since 1939; on-site labor costs 117 per cent.

In many of the building trades, employment is irregular. Some craftsmen can't work on rainy days, and some experience long lay-offs during cold weather. The Home Builders' Association cites this table, prepared by the Federal bureau of labor statistics, on "average weekly earnings:"

	Jan. 1940	Mar. 1947
Plumbing and heating	$32.11	$66.89
Painting and decorating	29.84	60.10
Electrical work	38.87	75.75
Masonry	23.99	57.37
Plastering and lathing	36.19	69.15
Carpentry	27.59	62.98
Roofing and sheet metal	25.14	53.67
Excavation and foundation	27.21	68.36

The cost of housing is geared pretty definitely to wage rates, and the Association of Home Builders doesn't think there's much chance of getting any substantial price reduction in the near future.

It seems quite apparent that people who want houses at a lower figure will have to devise their own methods of cutting corners.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

SOME MATTERS OF USAGE

Toledo: At our flower store a customer ordered some flowers sent to a friend who was in the hospital. The card was: "Compliments of—" We do not believe that is the correct usage. Or is it?—J. G. G.

Answer: No; one would hardly compliment a friend on being ill. A compliment is a flattering expression of praise. Such a card had better read something like this: With best wishes for your early recovery.

Taylorville: Here is a quotation from a news item in a large Illinois daily: "He apparently was struck and drug by a car or truck." Right?—W. B. C.

Answer: Wrong. "Drug" as the past tense of drag is listed by the dictionaries as "dialectal and illiterate." Correct: He apparently was struck and dragged . . .

Glens Falls: A dispatch from one of the big press agencies states: "One passenger was killed instantly and four seriously injured." Isn't this English a bit addled?—Mrs. H. de P.

Answer: Yes; the auxiliary "was" (singular) cannot be carried forward to serve the clause "and four seriously injured," for obviously "four was seriously injured" would be execrable English. Yet such constructions do appear regularly in some of our best-edited publications.

In all such constructions, each clause must have its own auxiliary verb if the first is singular and the second is plural, or vice versa.

Wrong: "One was killed and four injured." Right: One was killed and four were injured.

Wrong: "Three coaches were derailed and one destroyed." Right: Three coaches were derailed and one was destroyed.

Wrong: "Four oil wells have turned into great craters and production killed." Right: Four oil wells have turned into great craters and production has been killed.

Wrong: "Sixteen delegates were present and one absent." Right: Sixteen delegates were present and one was absent.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Berlin—Between now and the middle of October, there will be scarcely a single day that a committee or a subcommittee of Congress is not looking over the shoulder of the Americans who are struggling to carry out occupation policy in Germany. Altogether nine separate congressional groups have scheduled visits both for Berlin and Frankfurt.

Childs

When it first became known that Congress intended to invade Europe en masse, Gen. Lucius D. Clay hinted to Washington that it would be highly desirable if the congressional visits could be coordinated. The American military governor for Germany believes that Americans who are prepared to learn what is really happening here, without preconception or prejudice, will discover it is essential to raise the level of industry as he has advocated for some time.

—MAJORITY SEEKS FACTS—

Therefore he welcomes visitors with a serious mission. But he also knows from long experience how time-consuming VIP's can be.

The designation VIP for "very important persons" is a carry-over from the war to tag visitors who must be treated with deference. Naturally congressmen come in that classification.

On balance it is probable that the majority honestly want to get the facts. They all want a personal explanation from Gen. Clay on what he is trying to do in Germany.

A minority go for the ride and what diversion they can find along the way. In any event VIP's must be properly entertained or they are likely to depart with hurt feelings. In other words, they must be wined and dined as well as educated.

Handling a troupe of traveling congressmen takes great patience and tact, both of which Clay has. But sometimes even his patience is strained to the breaking point.

One of a group visiting Berlin last year was a peripatetic woman member of congress. She interrupted a conference in Clay's office, dealing with a serious aspect of German ocupation, to demand:

"I want to know how much you spent on those draperies and this rug. As a representative of the American taxpayer, that's what I'm interested in."

—SENSITIVE SOULS—

The general explained that the draperies and the rug had been requisitioned from the Germans. They had cost the taxpayers nothing. The conference was resumed.

VIP's are often sensitive souls. A wandering congressman, unattached to any committee, recently visited the coal mines at Essen. He flew into a pet when, through some hitch in the arrangements, he was not greeted by the top brass.

Not all VIP's are congressmen, by any means. Other temperamental characters, newspapermen included, often make infernal nuisances of themselves, behaving like visiting royalty.

Such behavior is singularly out of place when set alongside the awful seriousness of the issue in Germany. Because he hopes each American will come to realize what the stakes are, Clay tries to talk with all visitors who come here. He gives his time prodigally, even though the demands on him are so heavy from every quarter.

Total U. S. administrative personnel in Germany is today only 4,000, and that includes typists. The number of U. S. troops in the theater is only 120,000, and this will be reduced still further in the near future.

Clay has some keen, intensely hard-working men in the military government. They are here because they believe the job is such an important one. But there are also time-servers and incompetents in Germany because they could not get as good a job in the U. S. A. This helps to explain why so many decisions must be made by Clay himself.

To add to his worries, Congress cut the appropriation for occupied countries $125,000,000. While it has not been decided how this cut shall be made, any deep slash in the fund for Germany will create trouble this winter.

Since this is true, perhaps it's fortunate that both the House and Senate Appropriation committees will have delegations in Berlin and Frankfurt. While he is playing host—on a very small entertainment allowance—Clay can drop in the cold arithmetic of occupation costs.

Congressmen have not exactly coordinated their efforts in Germany. But if they will look at the forest instead of a few conspicuous trees, then perhaps the taxpayer will not have spent the congressional travel money in vain.

A CITY CHANGES—Considerable interest has been aroused in Escanaba over the problem of city planning and city zoning. There is a definite movement under way to revise and bring up to date the zoning ordinance, so that the errors of the past and the present will not be perpetuated in the future.

Dunathan

It is a thoroughly healthy sign, marking change, growth and development in Escanaba. Any community that accomplishes change without controversy and debate among its people can be presumed to be the victim of government by edict. The government of Escanaba is based on the ideal of democratic action —but the action must necessarily come from a people informed and enlightened.

Escanaba has changed since it started out as a little settlement on Sand Point back in the 1860's. It will change still more in the future.

* * *

JUST DIDN'T GROW— The city of Escanaba just didn't grow. It was planned. The city was surveyed by Eli P. Royce, who was also the first president of the village following its incorporation.

Royce did a good job. Although at the time of his survey Third street was the principal business street of the community, he envisaged Ludington street as the main thoroughfare and the growth of the community westward. Today the wide streets of Escanaba and the well-designed network of streets and alleys are a tribute to Royce's vision. That those who followed him have not shown the same ability to look far enough into the future has caused confusion. But the city was given a good start toward future growth and cannot now be irreparably harmed.

* * *

MANY NEEDS—In the early days when Escanaba was growing rapidly the people did not need—or at least they did not expect—many of the services they now demand.

The first streets were unpaved. There was no city water supply, no sanitary sewage disposal, no garbage disposal, no sidewalks. People burned kerosene lamps and did not think of electricity. They had outdoor toilets and never thought they would sometime be moved inside the dwellings. They used wood in their stoves and there was no need of a gas plant to supply heat for cooking or for water heaters. There was always the reservoir on the back of the kitchen range if you wanted hot water and a bath was a Saturday night occasion in a wood tub in the kitchen.

People in those days did not need and did not expect that Escanaba would supply its people with water, with gas, sewers, steam electricity. So they built their houses where they pleased without thought of being beyond the built-in areas where such services are now supplied. Times have changed, however, and the new dwelling built on the outskirts of the city must have all the modern conveniences even if it means a bill of expense to the city for sewer, water, and gas extensions.

And that is where one of the needs for revision in city zoning is apparent. The man who buys a "bargain" lot far removed from present utility service and builds himself a home must expect some inconveniences. He cannot expect the city to spend money to supply him with something he is unwilling to pay for himself.

* * *

SPACIOUS CITY— Escanaba today would be more spacious and beautiful if it were not a city of narrow lots. Most of the lots have a 50-foot frontage, some are 40. There are a few—comparatively few— spacious lots of more than 50 feet. These in the majority will be found on the east side of the city in what is considered the "desirable" residential section. It was this locality that was Escanaba's first home site area, indicating that early-day Escanabans liked spacious grounds too.

* * *

NOT TOO LATE—After the first settlement and growth period, Escanaba began to economize on space. Subdivisions were platted with 50 foot lots. Some corner lots have been divided in half, so that two houses now occupy one lot. The result is a cluttered look and a crowded condition.

Such a condition is not desirable and it is not conducive to good real estate values. It is not too late, however, to stop the house-crowding and other practices that make a neighborhood unsightly and sometimes unpleasant. A simple change in the wording of the city zoning ordinance would do the trick.

* * *

TO THE FUTURE—It would be well to point out that changes in the zoning ordinance will not affect existing structures. The houses now crowded together, the unsightly shacks built among permanent dwellings, and the sprawling growth of the city beyond utility lines will remain as they are. But in the future the growth can be guided and controlled. New platted lots can be larger, the houses farther apart and Escanaba can thus be made more spacious, more pleasant and more livable.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Chicago—Theaters barred children today in a new move to stem the spread of infantile paralysis. Playgrounds and wading pools have also been closed.

London—British naval reinforcements sped to the Mediterranean tonight with guns ready to thunder Great Britain's answer to mysterious submarine attacks.

New York—A minor municipal crisis was precipitated today by the arrival at the office of the Manhattan Borough president of 24 fibre cuspidors, each bearing on its bottom a Nazi swastika and the words "Made in Germany."

Escanaba—Members of the City Council last night voted in favor of central steam heating and authorized City Manager George Bean to move forward with the project as soon as signing of contracts was completed.

Twenty Years Ago

Geneva, Switzerland —The feature of the meeting of the council of the League of Nations today was formal recognition of the power of the press.

Buffalo, N. Y.— A movement aimed at regulation of transoceanic flights to prevent loss of lives due to unworthy craft was launched today at the final business meeting of the American Bar association.

Chicago —The Chicago Symphony orchestra faced with dissolution because of salary difficulties has been saved by public subscription with the radio audience of the middle west leading the way.

Q. Does cold iron contain heat?
A. Yes. All bodies contain heat. However, when a thing feels cold its heat is domant.

Q. Who was the jockey that won the Yankee Handicaps in 1944 and 1946; and what horses did he ride?
A. H. Lindberg. He rode Whirlabout in 1944 and Cable in 1946 to win the Yankee Handicap in those years.

Q. Does whole milk have a higher percentage of water than watermelon?
A. No. Whole milk contains 87% water, and watermelon is composed of 92.4% water.

Q. Who was the first to pilot a dirigible balloon?
A. Santos Dumont, a Brazilian inventor, in Paris, in 1901, was the first to fly a dirigible balloon.

Q. How did the Dominican Order of priests originate?
A. In 1215, a priest named Dominic, to stamp out enemies of the Church, proposed a group of "preaching friars". Later the preaching friars were named Dominicans after Dominic, their founder. At about the same time St. Francis of Assisi founded the order of Franciscans.

Q. Does a serviceman, if he deserts and never has his guilt determined by a court martial, lose his right to National Service Life Insurance?
A. When the insured is guilty of desertion he forfeits his right to National Service Life Insurance. As far as desertion is concerned, his guilt need not be established by a court martial. A department record may be accepted as a necessary finding of guilt.

Q. Can you give me a recipe for Maitre D'Hotel butter?
A. ½ cup butter, 1½ tsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. minced parsley, ⅛ tsp. pepper, ¼ tsp. salt. Cream butter, gradually working in lemon juice, salt and pepper. When well blended, work in parsley and roll into balls.

Q. What is the brightest object on the moon's surface?
A. The crater formation Aristarchus. It is so brilliant that it can often be seen when the entire region around it is in shadow (that is, when it is nighttime here).

Q. When was the first polo match played between teams representing Great Britain and the U.S.?
A. In 1886. Great Britain won 10-4, and 14-2.

Q. During the past several years I have heard much about PAC, PCA, etc. Can you please

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—First, I want to thank Bob Allen for the swell columns he wrote in my absence. They set a tough standard for me to follow, but enabled me take the longest time off from the Merry-Go-Round since the whirl started.

Pearson

When I embarked on this period of idleness I thought I would be bored stiff. It turned out that I wasn't but my wife was. Reason was that I insisted on spending part of my vacation filling the silo.

Silo-filling is a very dangerous period around our farm, and anyone who comes too close is liable to get caught. Once my son-in-law—then a suitor for my daughter's hand—found himself in the unhappy predicament of having to humor his prospective father-in-law by tramping down ensilage for a whole week inside the silo. Now that he has married my daughter, he is most careful to put a thousand miles between himself and the farm at silo-filling time. This summer, however, I caught my radio agent, Jackson Leighter, off guard and before he knew what had happened, he was inside the silo earning honest money.

Although I have never put my wife inside the silo, she is never quite happy about silo-filling. This is not because she drives a truck from the cornfield to the silo, but because she would rather have me relax at Nantucket or the mountains. However, if we go to one of these summer resorts, everyone I meet wants me to predict who will be the next president or when we will fight Russia; while at the farm we are concerned with much simpler things—such as how long before the people who moved into the haunted house across the road will see the alleged headless man who prowls up its stairs in the moonlight, and will hurriedly move away.

—VACATION IN VIRGINIA—

Only twice did I desert the silo.

With most of us worrying about Communism and the jittery state of the world, I decided to visit the area which reared some of the men who made this country great—Virginia. One visit was to the northern neck of Virginia, the land of once-great tobacco plantations where George Washington and Robert E. Lee were born.

Later when I went to Williamsburg, scene of the founding fathers' earliest heartaches, where University of Virginia students are now reliving those heartaches in Paul Green's stirring pageant, "The Common Glory." And as I watched their portrayal of the trials of Thomas Jefferson, the doubting Thomases who scoffed that democracy could never live, the discouragement, the suffering, the determination which finally brought victory, I could not help but wonder what would happen to some of our founding fathers were they alive today.

Would they, for instance, be censored by the Rankin committee on un-American affairs?

The leaders of the revolution were rebellious radicals, determined to set up a new order. Jefferson not only proposed immediate freedom for the slaves, but proclaimed the inflammatory idea that all men were created free and equal.

Most of the founding fathers were young—in contrast to the older men who run our government today. And significantly, some of them were extremely wealthy. Jefferson and Washington, for instance, were among the biggest landowners in Virginia, with more than a hundred slaves on their plantations.

—REVOLUTIONARY FIRES—

But the fire which kindled the leaders of the revolution, the thing that churned their souls, kept them fighting on through discouragement, starvation, mutiny, was—a cause. They were fighting not merely against England, but for a cause in which they devoutly believed. They were fighting to build and develop a new country—a country where they could enjoy new freedoms, a new tolerance, new religious liberties. It was a great and sacred cause, and the souls of our founding fathers were aflame with winning it.

Visiting in Virginia, browsing through the vistas of our glorious past, I contrasted those days when the nation was so weak no one expected it to survive, with the present when we have become the most powerful nation in the world—so powerful that parts of the world hear us.

One trouble with power is that along with it goes complacency. Power makes us too self-satisfied, too conservative, too cocksure and confident, too content to rest on our oars. That, of course, is the reason why empires rise and fall.

That also is why we cease being inspired by crusades and causes, as were the founding fathers. We tend to be merely agin' things, not for building up new things. Our national motto becomes similar to that which hangs in the aisles of Pullman cars after 10 p. m.: "Quiet is requested for the benefit of those who have retired."

Last week, for instance, the American Legion adopted a resolution denouncing Communism—a resolution with which I and most other people heartily concur. But if the founding fathers had had to cope with Communism, they would not have resorted merely to resolutions. Not only would they have denounced Communism, but they also would have written a bill of rights, a substitute declaration of American ideals to combat Communism.

RELIGIOUS RADIO INSTITUTE HERE

Conference on Monday at First Presbyterian Church

The Delta County Ministers' association will hold a one-day radio institute at the First Presbyterian church in Escanaba on Monday, Sept. 8, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The theme of the institute will be "Religion on the Radio."

Rev. James H. Bell, of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. Serge F. Hummon, of the Delta parish of Congregational churches, Rapid River, are co-chairmen of the meeting.

Lecturer and discussion leader will be Charles Rodrigues, of the joint radio committee of Congregational. Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Mr. Rodrigues, formerly religious radio chairman of the Rhode Island Council of churches, travels throughout the nation, assisting ministerial associations and churches in outlining their religious radio programs.

A representative of Station WDBC also will attend the institute.

Raymond Grimmer Dies In Milwaukee

Milwaukee — Raymond Grimmer, 53, Ford Motor Co. branch manager for Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, was pronounced dead on entrance to County Emergency hospital last night after he collapsed while entering his car in a downtown parking lot.

Grimmer's family said he had been suffering from a heart condition for some time.

A native of Springfield, O., Grimmer came to Milwaukee 11 years ago after working for the Ford Co. in Detroit and Cincinnati. He is survived by his wife, Bernadine, five daughters, eight sons and eight brothers.

Funeral services will be held Friday in Detroit.

Mr. Grimmer was well known in Escanaba, having visited here frequently in connection with the Northern Motor Rebuilders operations in Escanaba.

John Skopp Retires; Climaxes 31 Years As C&NW Carman

Working on the railroad is as Yankee as being born on the Fourth of July. John Skopp, 518 South 13th street, has both Yankee attributes early this month he climaxed 31 years of service as car repairman for the Chicago and Northwestern railway with his retirement.

"Railroad men are great buddies. One might call them one big, happy family," stated Mr. Skopp.

Since he began in the employ of the railroad, Mr. Skopp recalls a progressive shift from the former number one cargo—timber—to the present predominance of ore shipments. The yards have continually expanded; the rays of the carmen's light have been extended.

John Skopp came to Escanaba in 1891, from his birthplace in Wisconsin, Dane County.

Though retirement is rarely anticipated, Mr. Skopp, still loyal to his friends on the railroad and the Carmen's union, eyes with pleasure some fine lumber aging in his basement. Ornaments and utility objects will be born of this.

The John Skopps have four children, Donald in Detroit, Dorothy and Kathryn, receptionists in St. Francis hospital, and Clement also of Escanaba.

FLYING PARTY RETURNS HOME

Nationwide Airlines Promises Extension Of U. P. Service

Members of the Escanaba delegation returned from the Nationwide Airlines-sponsored good will flight to Detroit yesterday afternoon after a two-hour air trip from the Motor City to the Menominee municipal airport.

Other members of the Upper Peuinsula flying party continued on their way in a Nationwide Airlines DC-3 transport to Houghton, where they had left their automobiles for the final jaunt to their respective homes.

The group, representing various civic and governmental bodies, included Barbara Jean Erickson, Iron River, queen of the Upper Peninsula State Fair; Shirley Lyons. Marquette Amvet queen; Mrs. Gunther Meyland, Marquette, chaperone; George E. Bishop, U. P. Development Bureau, Marquette; Earl Closser, Marquette; Harry D. Brackett, H. P. Lindsay, Escanaba, and John McInnis, Sault Ste. Marie, board of managers, Upper Peninsula State Fair; George Lindenthal, Dudley Jewell, Wm. J. Duchaine. Escanaba Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Marvin L. Coon; Richard Barta, president, Hancock Chamber; Melvin Jose, Houghton; C. H. Burton, Gladstone Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Otto Eckmeyer, Menominee; Bob Murphy, Menominee; Frank Morett, vice president, Iron Mountain Chamber of Commerce; Howard Billings, president, Iron River Business men's Club; Mayor Joe Carlson, Iron River; Gerald Degenais, Houghton. Copper Country Vacationist League.

Guests of Fair Board

Arriving in Detroit Tuesday evening, the Upper Peninsula delegation was photographed at the airport by cameramen of the Detroit News, Detroit Free Press and Detroit Times. On Wednesday, they were guests of the Michigan State Fair Board, and after attending the exposition in the afternoon they attended a luncheon given by the board at the Turf club. In the evening, they witnessed the crowning of the Michigan State Fair queen and were guests of the fair management at the Olsen and Johnson show at the Fair's Coliseum. Thursday morning, a breakfast was held by the Detroit Board of Commerce at the Book-Cadillac hotel for the visitors from Hiawathaland.

John Weesner, president and general manager, and Irving Stahl, secretary-treasurer, of Nationwide Airlines, told the Upper Peninsula visitors that they are anxious to make regular stops with their passenger planes at Escanaba and Iron Mountain as soon as the runways are lengthened sufficiently to accommodate DC-3 ships. Marquette's inclusion in the schedule is contingent upon the completion of the big airport project at Sands. Nationwide Airlines is now operating in intrastate traffic, and consequently in flying to Menominee over Lake Michigan must make a detour to avoid crossing over Wisconsin's Door peninsula. Application is being made to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to establish permanent routes to the Copper Country, Chicago. Cleveland and other cities out of Detroit.

Present Schedule

Here is the present schedule of Nationwide Airlines on the trans-Michigan route:

Flight 102—Leaves Detroit city airport, 10 a. m.; Lansing, 10:45 a. m.; Menominee, 12:35 p. m.; and arrives Houghton, 2:10 p. m.

Flight 101—Leaves Houghton 3 p. m.; Menominee, 4:30 p. m.; Lansing, 6:15 p. m.; and arrives Detroit city airport, 6:55 p. m.

Passenger fares are $24.95 for one-way trip, and round trip, $45, plus 15 per cent federal transportation tax.

Red Cross Blood Debit Now 69.2

Delta county now has a debit of 69.2 units of blood plasma, it was revealed yesterday by Delta County Red Cross Chapter.

During the recent blood collection here 123 specimens of blood were received. From this the Michigan Department of Health processed 87 units of plasma. The difference between the present figure and that of the collections represents the amount dispensed within the past three weeks.

200 Study Courses Are Available For Hospitalized Vets

Nearly 200 complete educational courses, ranging from high school subjects to automobile mechanics, are available to ill and disabled veterans in the nine Veterans Administration hospitals in Michigan.

The courses, obtained from the U. S. Armed Forces Institute (USAFI), are offered to patients as part of VA's educational therapy program.

In addition to academic high school material, the courses cover a complete variety of vocational and pre-vocational technical subjects, such as poultry raising. photography, radio repair and plastics.

Commercial subjects include bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, filing systems and problems of operating a small business.

While some veterans in hospitals are completing their high school education, others are taking business subjects which they hope to utilize after there discharge.

National Guard Seeks 'Recruit-A-Minute' To Protect United States

THE NEW NATIONAL GUARD—Col. Ben Sain, veteran of both World Wars, explains armored weapons to Harold D. Gifford, 17, during recent encampment of the Arkansas National Guard. For other recruits too young for World War II, there will be training in aviation, infantry and radar.

Washington, Sept. 3 (NEA.) — A brand new National Guard, almost as big as the Regular Army, must be built up to safeguard the United States against any possible future attack, military experts believe.

That is why President Truman has proclaimed September 16 as National Guard Day, and has asked for 88,888 enlistments during the next two months.

When the National Guard was called into federal service beginning September 16, 1940, it supplied more than 300,000 partially trained officers and enlisted men in 18 divisions—half of which fought in Europe and the other half against Japan.

But when World War II ended National Guard enlistments all had expired. There was no guard left.

Studies made while the war still raged showed that the United States would need 1,750,000 soldiers, organized, trained, armed and ready to start shooting on any M-Day this country may be attacked, however short the warning.

Because we are not a military nation, and dislike large standing armies and their cost, it was decided to have 875,000 men in the Regular Army, 682,000 in the National Guard, and the rest in the Organized Reserve.

This National Guard —almost three times as large as before the war—must be so organized, equipped and trained that, together with the Regulars, it would provide a balanced, adequate defense organization ready for any emergency.

All the states have been given quotas, based on their populations between the ages of 17 and 35, ranging from Nevada 913 up to New York's 62,777.

Some of the states went right to work. Connecticut's 102nd Infantry, first created in 1917, was re-created, the first postwar National Guard regiment given federal recognition. Connecticut's 169th Infantry was the second federally recognized regiment.

Oklahoma was the first state to have all its ground units presented for federal recognition. Missouri was the first state to have a full air group recognized. Pennsylvania, Michigan, California, New Jersey pushed close behind.

But these starts left much to be accomplished. In July of this year the 100,000 mark was passed. The objective for 1947 is 250,000. President Truman's full goal of a recruit a minute for two months will still leave the Guard behind the 250,000 mark.

So for the two-month period there is to be a recruiting contest in each state, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The winning enlisted man recruiter will get a plane trip to Washington and to the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia. There will be honors for runners-up and for units which do particularly well.

The new Guard will have 25 infantry divisions and two armored divisions, compared with 18 ground units in the pre-war establishment. The 29 observation squadrons of the pre-war Guard will be replaced by 12 light bombardment squadrons flying A-26 Invaders and 72 fighter squadrons flying P-51 Mustangs, P-47 Thunderbolts and jet-propelled P-80 Shooting Stars. There also will be a radar and communications set-up of 12 aircraft control and warning groups.

The National Guard volunteer commits himself to two hours drill a week, for which he receives Regular Army pay, ranging from $2.50 for a private up to $5.50 for a Master or First Sergeant. He also will be called to a 15-day camp each summer, for which he receives 15 days' regular pay.

For each three-year enlistment, these pay scales will be boosted five per cent, and each enlistment counts toward longevity pay if the Guard is called out for another war or major disaster. Fliers get special flight pay.

In both World Wars fought by this country, as in previous more limited conflicts, the National Guard, though only partially trained, has covered itself with glory, filling the gap between a too-small Regular Army and a slow-to-organize National Army.

But it also has performed peace-time services for which no other adequate agency existed.

Six Iowa companies were called out in the Des Moines Valley flood. Vermont's 172nd Infantry helped evacuate and patrol the lowlands in the recent flash flood at Rutland. Michigan's 119th Field Artillery and units of the 125th Infantry helped similarly in the Lansing and Flint floods. California's 196th fighter squadron and Louisiana's Guard fliers flew emergency supplies to Texas City during the disaster there. Oklahoma's 45th Signal Company and other units did police duty in tornado-wrecked Woodward.

At times in the past the National Guard has felt that it was a forgotten child in the defense structure. For the moment, at least, it is sitting pretty. President Truman was a Missouri National Guardsman during World War I, and his sympathy with and pride in "the militia" is reflected in the intensive effort now under way to build it up and give it everything the Regular Army has except year-around training and service.

Fossil bones of a tillodont, a bear-sized animal that lived some 50 million years ago, are now being sought in Colorado and Wyoming.

"BETTER FOODS FOR LESS"

Allowances Increased For Vets In Training

Automatic increases will be paid effective Sept. 1 in the minimum allowances received by the more seriously disabled veterans enrolled in educational and training courses under Government sponsorship, Veterans Administration officials in Escanaba announced yesterday.

The increased rates, which will be reflected in September checks received on or after Oct. 1, were voted by the last session of Congress and signed into law by the President.

VA said the law requires no action by disabled trainees entitled to the higher rates because of the automatic nature of the increases.

The new law provides that a veteran enrolled in a course under the vocational rehabilitation act, whose disability is rated at 30 per cent or higher, will receive $115 a month if he has no dependents, and $135 if he has one dependent.

No Basic Change

The old law allowed $105 and $115 for the same two categories; but although these rates are superseded by the new schedule for the more seriously disabled, they will continue to apply to veterans with disabilities rated at less than 30 per cent.

The new law also raises the amounts authorized for additional dependents of veterans with disabilities of 30 per cent or more. The additional allowance for one child is increased from $10 a month to $20, and the previous allowance of $7 a month for each additional child is raised to $15. No change is made in the $15 monthly allowance for a dependent parent.

The new law does not change the basic provisions for awarding payments to disabled veterans pursuing a course of training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. These provisions are:

Subsistence Allowance

While a veteran is in training, and for two months after his employability is determined, he receives a subsistence allowance of $65 a month im he has no dependents. in addition to his disability compensation. In case the compensation plus the allowance do not total $105 or $115 for those with disabilities of less than 30 per cent, or $115 or $135 for those with disabilities of 30 per cent or more, an additional sum is paid to make up the difference. The sum is further increased if there is more than one dependent.

The veteran in job training may retain whatever wages are paid him, but if his salary plus his subsistence allowance exceed the wage of a beginning trained journeyman, VA will reduce his subsistence allowance proportionately.

If the veteran-trainee is enrolled in school, his tuition and fees are paid by VA, and his books and supplies are provided by VA. If he is enrolled in on-the-job training, VA provides the necessary tools.

School Notes

Fayette, Mich.— Schools of Fairbanks township opened Wednesday with Alpha Bernard in charge at Fairport. Mrs. Evelyn Devet at Mud Lake, Mrs. Merle Jacobsen at Burnt Bluff and Mrs. Dorothy Chayer at Puffy Creek. These teachers attended a meeting for rural teachers at Escanaba Tuesday. Henry Jacobsen is bus driver and students of high school are transported to the Cooks school.

Party

Mrs. Erling Leivdal entertained 18 boys and girls at her home Monday to celebrate the eighth birthday of her son Erling Jr. After games a lunch including a large birthday cake was enjoyed by the children who presented Erling with nice gifts.

Personals

Leslie Devet Jr. left Tuesday to return to school at the Marmion Military Academy at Aurora, Ill. He was accompanied to Escanaba by his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper and family and Peter Mayotte of Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. Joe Farley, son Milton and Alan Dotsch of Garden joined Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobsen and son Bruce at a picnic held at Sack Bay Sunday evening.

Douglas Bennett and two sons of Escanaba and Arthur Cooke of Nashville, Tenn., visited with the Leslie Devets Thursday.

Committee Issues Facts About Polio

The following article on polio, sponsored by the Christmas Seal health education service of the Escanaba Woman's club tuberculosis committee, is of general interest:

Last year, 1946, was a heavy year for poliomyelitis in Michigan. Ninety were killed by the crippling disease commonly known as infantile paralysis; most of them during the late summer and early fall season. In 1945 the deaths numbered only 20, and, taken in a five year average, the count tallies 24 deaths per year. But a polio outbreak is a time for people to keep their heads. Panic never prevented or cured a disease.

Despite its name, infantile paralysis can strike older age groups and may cripple adults as well as children, but its toll is most heavy among the younger generations. Although there is as yet no definite means of prevention and cure, there are measures parents can take to help ward off the disease.

During an outbreak, children should be kept out of crowds and away from polio patients. They should be kept away from persons who have just come from an epidemic area. Since people who are over-tired are more apt to get the disease, it is well to see that children get plenty of rest and do not exercise too hard. They should not be allowed to stay in cold water too long. It is usually wise to postpone tonsil and adenoid operations until after the polio season is over.

Since flies may be carriers of infection, waste and uncovered garbage should be eliminated from all communities. Sewage must be properly treated and every effort should be made to protect food from flies and other insects. Children should be kept away from bathing places polluted by sewage or other filth.

Symptoms of Disease

In the infantile paralysis "season" children should be watched carefully for any symptoms of illness. A headache, slight fever, a cold, sore throat, or an upset stomach may indicate the onset of polio or any one of a number of childhood diseases. If any of these symptoms appear, a doctor should be called at once.

The important thing is to get the patient under a doctor's care so that, if the illness is serious, the best treatment can be given promptlyl.

Recent developments in the treatment of polio, plus the fact that these methods are now more generally available to victims of the disease, have done much to allay fear of infantile paralysis. Further information about polio and its treatment may be obtained from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, 2059 National Bank Building, Detroit 26, Michigan, or your local chapter.

Arnum Low-Cost Housing Development Launched In Escanaba

RANCH-STYLE HOMES BUILT

1 To 3 Bedroom Units To Sell From $5700 To $7500 Here

The first of eight ranch-type homes being constructed by Harold Arnum, president of the Fence Company of America, at 14th street and 12th avenue south is now about three-quarters completed and the entire eight houses of varying designs will be completed within the next six weeks to two months.

These homes, of one, two and three bedrooms, are being constructed as an inspection unit and plans are ready to construct as many as 200 additional units of similar design in the city.

The houses are being constructed on lots that are 113 feet in width and 70 feet in depth. All homes will contain automatic thermostatically controlled gas-fired heating units and automatic gas hot water heaters, fluorescent lighting in kitchens and baths. Living rooms and dining rooms will be finished in knotty pine or other attractive wood panelling and will have large picture windows. Reception halls will be equipped with door chimes. All houses will have a minimum of three inches of insulation in the ceilings and will contain asphalt tile floors. An attached garage with concrete floor is included in each of the homes. Rustic fences are included on each lot.

Prices including the lots will start at $5700 for one-bedroom homes, with a maximum of $7,500 for three bedroom homes.

New Construction Method

A new method of construction is being employed which the builders contend provides a sturdier building with a considerable saving in building costs. Instead of conventional construction consisting of 2x4 studdings every 16 inches, covered with sheathing, the Arnum construction method used in this development consists of virtually a solid wall of 2x6's. The planks are prepared at the company's plant in Escanaba for the insertion of splines to allow for expansion and contraction. Then either the interior or exterior is prepared for the application of wall covering, which also allows an air space.

Emphasis is made upon the fact that the construction design is not pre-fabricated, although some of the materials at the company's plant.

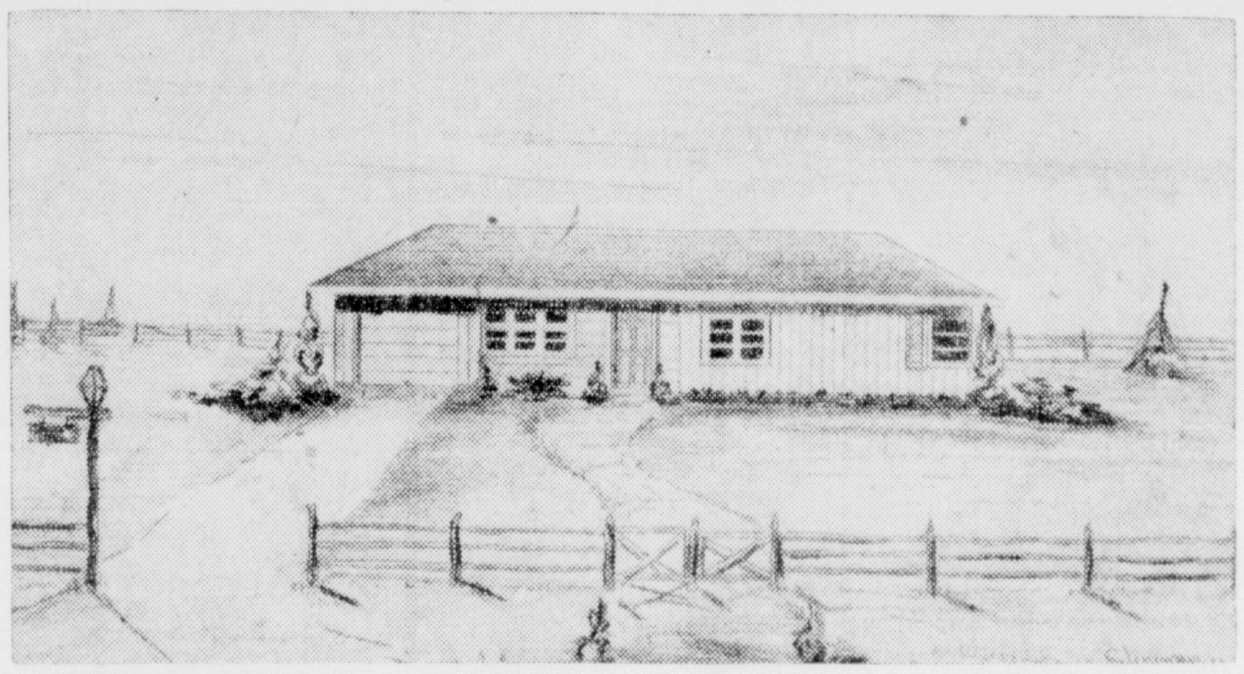
Although the plot now under construction contains only sufficient space for eight houses, the company also has an option on a larger tract of property at the intersection of S. 23rd street and Eighth avenue which is large enough for approximately 40 houses. It is planned to begin construction there when the eight inspection units at 14th and 12th avenue are completed.

Robert E. Sherman of Toledo, Ohio is the architect in charge of the project, which has been named the San Fernando countryside estates because of the ranch-type design. Mr. Sherman declared yesterday that the units can be constructed in about two weeks with the building methods being employed.

Considerable interest has been evidenced in the project, Mr. Arnum reported. No homes will be sold to speculators and sales will be predicated upon occupancy by the purchaser.

The plan provides for eventual construction of 200 or more of these homes in Escanaba, with probability of similar housing developments by the company in other cities upon request.

Under ideal conditions, it is hoped to lay foundations for as many as 40 before winter intervenes. This is predicted, however, upon the ability of the City of Escanaba to secure pipe and other materials that are necessary for water, sewer and gas extensions to the 23rd street housing site.



3-BEDROOM DESIGN—This drawing by R. E. Sherman, Toledo architect on the Arnum housing project, shows a typical design of the ranch-type home, with rustic fence, being constructed on an inspection unit at 12th avenue and South 14th street.

GRAPE GROWERS PROMISED HELP

Legislation To Permit Better Michigan Wine Sought By Sigler

Lansing, Sept. 4. (AP)—Legislation to put Michigan grape and wine industries on a more favorable competitive basis with California wines will be sought, Governor Sigler promised today.

At a conference today, the governor said he would ask the proposed special session of the legislature next January to permit Michigan wineries to make wine of 20 per cent alcoholic volume and to impose an import tax on out-state 20 per cent wines imported.

Representatives of grape growers, wine manufacturers and wine employes said that the Michigan wine industry was faced with immediate extinction since it could not compete in price with the California product.

Growers, they said, are faced with a bumper crop of 10,000 tons and no place to sell it, because wineries have been unable to dispose of 90 per cent of last year's production and are not buying grapes this year.

The delegation pointed out that California 20 per cent wine comes into the state tax-free and is sold at licensed and state stores at substantially less than the Michigan product, despite a 46 per cent state markup on the out-state wine.

Michigan wine, containing 16 per cent alcohol, is sold through regular commercial channels at heavy retail and wholesale markups, they said.

Solid Gold Nuggets Found Along River North Of Klondike

Fort St. John, B. C., Sept. 4 (AP)—The Canadian press said today prospectors of the far north had a fabulous story of new riches, of solid gold nuggets found on the Firth river in the western Arctic, 400 miles north of Dawson City, Yukon.

Eskimo hunters brought word of the find, due north of the storied Klondike goldfields, to Aklavik during the summer, and Ernest Maxwell, a Yellowknife mining engineer, who made a dangerous plane flight, has returned to verify the reports.

Eskimos told of finding solid gold nuggets, worth more than $100 apiece along the river banks, and Maxwell said he washed gold along the Firth and its tributaries.

Hesse Jewel Theft Trial Void; Former WAC Captain Freed

BY LEE GARRETT

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 4 (AP)—The court-martial conviction of former WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant for complicity in the theft of the Hesse crown jewels was voided today by U. S. District Judge Ben Moore, paving the way for her release from a five-year prison sentence.

Judge Moore held that an army court martial which convicted her had lacked jurisdiction over Mrs. Durant because she was no longer on active army duty at the time of her arrest.

Judge Moore upheld the contention of Mrs. Durant that she was a civilian at the time of her arrest on June 3, 1946, saying:

"It is my conclusion that petitioner's terminal leave orders were never effectively revoked, and that by their self-executing provisions she was finally and formerly separated from the service on May 30, 1946."

"So I conclude," the opinion added, "that petitioner's actual status while on terminal leave, as distinguished from her technical status for pay purposes only, was that of an officer on inactive duty."

Mrs. Durant, 43, now a prisoner at the Federal penitenciary for women in Alderson, W. Va., was convicted by an army tribunal in Germany of participating in the theft of $1,500,000 worth of the Hesse crown jewels from Kronberg Castle, Germany.

Her husband, Jack W. Durant, former army colonel, was convicted and sentenced to 15 years at hard labor for his part in the theft.

Judge Moore emphasized that he was not ruling upon Mrs. Durant's guilt or innocence, but said the court martial lacked jurisdiction to try her.

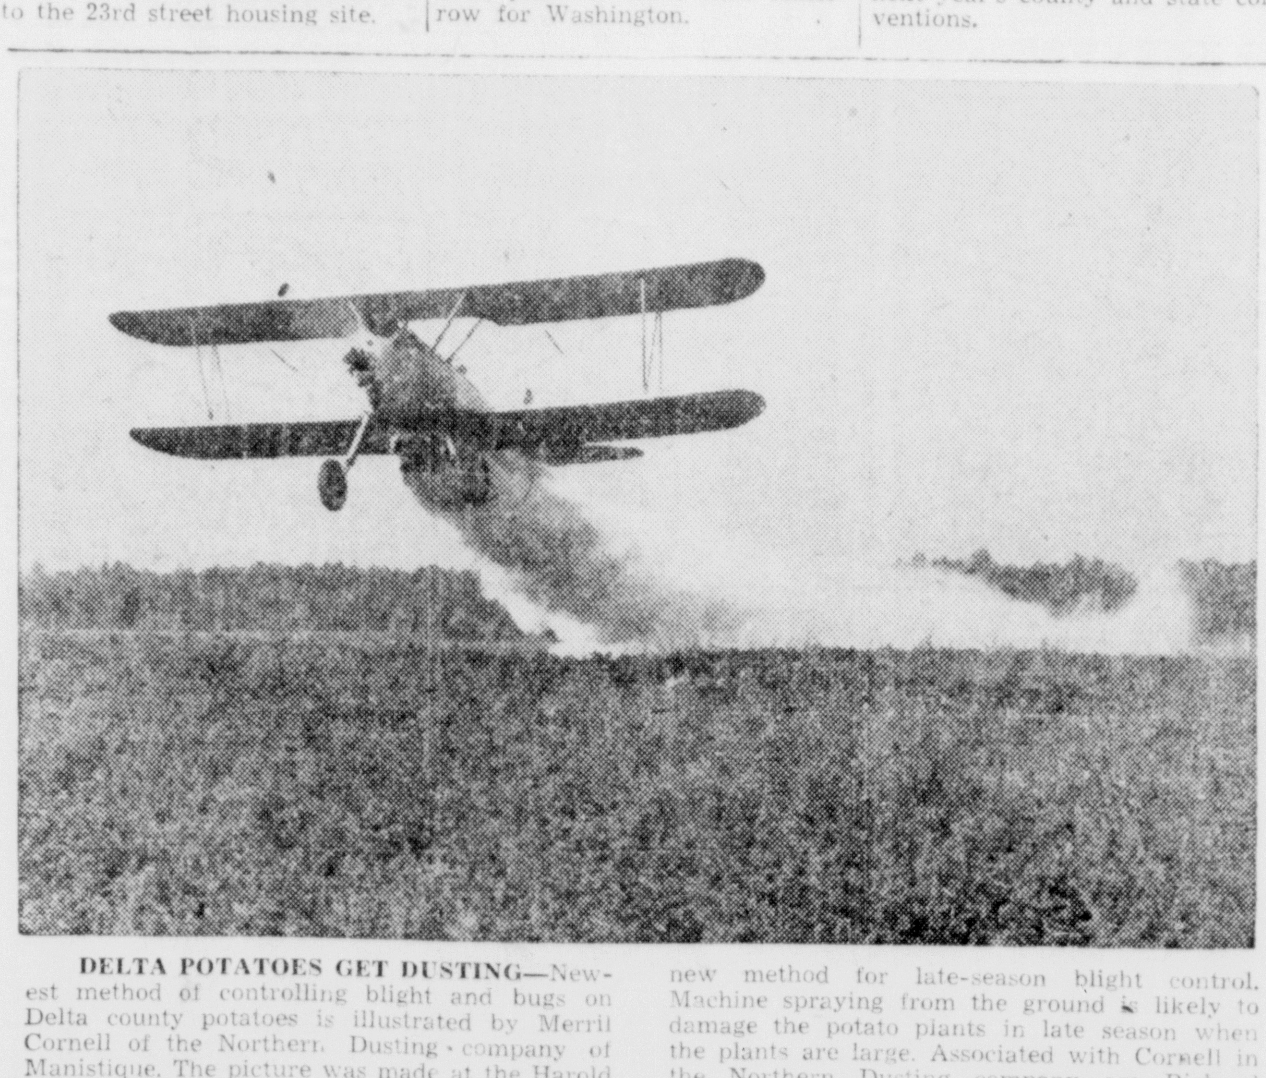
REPUBLICANS CONFER

Lansing, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Republican state central committee was called today to its regular semi-annual meeting here September 24.

Issuing the call, John A. Wagner, of Battle Creek, chairman, said the committee probably would fix the dates and site for next year's county and state conventions.



DELTA POTATOES GET DUSTING—Newest method of controlling blight and bugs on Delta county potatoes is illustrated by Merril Cornell of the Northern Dusting company of Manistique. The picture was made at the Harold Woodard farm at Cornell, one of several potato growers in the county who have turned to the new method for late-season blight control. Machine spraying from the ground is likely to damage the potato plants in late season when the plants are large. Associated with Cornell in the Northern Dusting company are Richard Jones, another pilot, and Leonard Flodin.

Roger Derouin Hurt In Car Collision; 3 Escape Injuries

A car collision at the intersection of Ludington street and 23rd street early Thursday morning sent Roger Derouin, 110 North 19th street, to St. Francis hospital for treatment of a deep cut in the left side of his head and caused his brother, Richard, to suffer slight abrasions.

The accident occurred at 2:25 a. m., when William Bellefeuil, Wilson, allegedly failed to stop at the red light on 23rd and Ludington. Bellefeuil, driving a 1946 Chevrolet club coupe west on Ludington street, first told city police officers he went through the intersection on the yellow caution signal, but later told officers he had gone against the light. Richard Derouin was driving a 1931 Chevrolet truck north on 23rd street and assumed Bellefeuil would stop.

A complaint and warrant for the arrest of Bellefeuil on a charge of reckless driving was filed yesterday afternoon in justice court.

With the Derouin brothers at the time of the collision was Edward Joseph Randall. Neither Randall nor Bellefeuil was injured.

Both cars were demolished to a great extent; the Derouin vehicle the worse.

Roger Derouin was reported in fair condition by hospital authorities late last night.

Copra Wasting In New Guinea

Auckland, New Zealand, (AP)—Copra, for which Britain is paying $97 a ton in Fiji, has been reported rotting on the ground in New Guinea because of a labor shortage.

R. T. Bruce, papuan plantation manager, says New Guineans received large sums as war damage reparations. The money, however, is beginning to run out and New Guineans are gradually resuming work, he said.

ANTI-LONG SKIRTS—Escanaba women are ganging up in protest against fall fashions that decree long skirts. More than 500 local girls and women have already signed petitions in protest against the new fashions and a committee is seeking the support of at least 3,000 local residents. The new fashions mean new wardrobes and in these days of high prices, the gals are opposed. Signing the petition in the picture above is Mary Lou Farrell, while Agnes Mae Tousignant and Jeanne Hirn await their turn to sign.

Former Perkins Man, Howard Larkin, Dies

Howard Larkin, former resident of Perkins, died suddenly Aug. 29 at the home of his sister in Green Bay, Wis., after a long illness. Funeral services were held from St. Peter and Paul's church in Green Bay and burial was made in Allouez Catholic cemetery.

Survivors are his wife, the former Olg Mattson of Kipling; his mother, Mrs. Anna Mlynski; three sisters, Mrs. R. Bouchea, Mrs. J. Collard and Mrs. M. Lealious; and a brother, Grabiel, all of Green Bay.

Six nephews of Mr. Larkin served as pallbearers: Leland Bouchea, Ralph Larkin, Joseph Larkin, Dean Collard, Joseph Lealious and John Marshall.

Out-of-town persons attending the services included Mr. and Mrs. George Miljour and daughter Margaret, Negaunee; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gendron, Escanaba; Ray Wilson, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Nahma; and John Larson, Negaunee.

Tony Chappi, 70, Dies Suddenly

Tony Chappi, a woodsman employed by Nick Sigan, was found dead in his room at the St. Clair hotel, 1837 Third avenue north, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Apparently in good health, he had breakfast as usual and had returned to his room immediately after eating.

Coroner Kevill Murphy, who was called, pronounced his death due to natural causes.

Mr. Chappi was born in Kovna, Russia, April 10, 1877 and had lived in Delta county for the past 30 years. There are no known relatives.

The body was taken to the Degnan funeral home. Arrangements for the services will be completed today.

4-H COUNCIL PLANNED HERE

Advisory Group Being Organized To Aid 4-H Program

To stimulate interest in the 4-H club program in Delta county plans are under way to form a Delta County 4-H Club Council, similar to councils now active in several counties in Michigan, it was announced yesterday by M. N. Nyquist, county 4-H club agent.

The time and place for the organization meeting will be announced soon, Nyquist said.

The council will be composed of active club leaders from various—it is hoped all—sections of Delta county. The membership will be selected during the first year but then members will be elected from time to time. The number of members on the council will be limited to nine.

Purpose of the council will be to advise and make recommendations to the county club agent which will further the 4-H program in Delta county.

Nyquest said that it is the desire of the extension service to create greater interest and understanding on the part of the public in the 4-H program, what it does for the rural boys and girls and to stimulate greater parental interest and interest of service organizations in sponsoring 4-H activities.

SGT. W. WIXOM KILLS COYOTE

Bags It With Pistol On Highway North Of Rapid River

Sgt. Willard Wixom, commander of the Gladstone Post, Michigan State Police, found his ability with a pistol stood him in good stead Wednesday evening, even though the marauder was not human.

In company of Hugo Johnson of Kipling, Sgt. Wixom was returning from his camp on Chippeny Creek, north of Rapid River.

As they drove southward a deer crossed the highway and close behind came a coyote chasing it. The car was so close that the predator turned down the roadway ahead of it.

Sgt. Wixom unlimbered his pistol, wounded the animal and Johnson ran it down with the auto and finished it. Sarge says he got it the fourth shot.

It was a male. Johnson's version of the affair is that Wixom needed but one shot and that the animal needed no finishing for it was drilled square through the head.

Anyway they got the coyote and yesterday it was taken to Escanaba for bounty.

Unless it be forgotten, Wixom is secretary of the Minnewasca Sportsmen's club.

Man Buried Alive When Sand Slides Into Excavation

Munising—Clifford Benzing, local plumber, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday when the side of a twelve foot excavation he was working in while repairing a water main on Munising avenue caved in, burying him up to his neck in sand.

Unable to move because of the weight of the sand which had, in falling, knocked him to his knees, Benzing was finally freed by his brother Ralph, assisted by Chief of Police Urban Trombley and a number of city employees. After attempts to pull the trapped man free had failed, the rescuers grabbed shovels and dug him out.

Bill Tidd, present when the accident occurred, summoned the local police to the scene while Ralph Benzing, who had been working on the repair job with his brother, began efforts to dig him out as quickly as possible.

Chief of Police Trombley reported the plumber did not suffer any injury from the mishap.

13 Employed On Teaching Staff Of Rock River

Munising—J. Donald Grenfell, superintendent of the Rock River township school system, has announced that there is a total of 13 teachers on the school staff this year, and that there is still need for a commercial instructor.

Teachers now employed by the system are: Mrs. Margaret Welch, homemaking; Miss Mary Chartier, science; Miss Helia Karppinen, English, social studies; Miss Ione Brown, French, social studies; Walfred Michelson, shop, agriculture, athletics; Miss Catherine Brown, Mrs. Rose Lemin, Mrs. Stella Christofferson, Mrs. Leila Barber, Chatham grades; Mrs. Thora Brown, Russell Boogren, Mrs. Mildred Kallio, Eben grades. Superintendent Grenfell will also teach mathematics.

Wednesday morning the schools opened for the year with grades 1, 2, 3 and 4B reporting at the Chatham school; and 4A, 5, 6, 7, 8 and high school at the Eben school.

Kindergarten classes were scheduled to begin Thursday morning and were to be held only two days each week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, children attending school all day instead of a half-day daily as in the past.

Chicago Man Will Talk At Temperance Rally Here Tuesday

Munising—Vernon C. White, Chicago, popular speaker in churches, schools and youth assemblies, will be the principal speaker at a temperance rally to be held next Tuesday evening in the Eden Lutheran church.

The rally, sponsored by the Munising Ministerial association, will begin at 8 o'clock and will be open to the public.

No admission will be charged.

WINTER SCHEDULE

Munising—The Munising township library located in the Mather high school began operating on the winter schedule yesterday.

Thursday evenings the library will be open from 7:30 to 8:30.

NEW MANAGER

Munising—William L. Byers, of AuTrain, has been named manager of the Legion club at Munising by members of the club committee of the Roderick Prato Post, operators of the building.

Mr. Byers succeeds William Bauman, Sr., who recently resigned the manager position to accept other employment.

Bakkum Chosen Board Member Of New Fund Group

Munising — Kenneth Bakkum, active Munising civic leader, has been chosen a member of the board of directors of the United Health and Welfare Fund, a newly organized state body, as a representative of Alger county.

Purpose of the new fund is to eliminate repeated calls upon civic leaders by combining the many national and state-wide health and welfare appeals into a single annual drive, the sponsors, including Henry Ford II, declared.

Officers of the fund are James M. Shackleton, Saginaw, president; Edward C. McCobb, Grand Rapids, and George Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie, vice-presidents; Donald E. Bates, Lansing, treasurer; and Warren D. Pierce, Lansing, secretary.

Sponsors of the project said "in creating the United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan, we affirm our belief in the need for adequate support of the approved health and welfare agencies and in this organization as an eminently practical and competent means of providing such support."

JOHN SMITH

Munising—Funeral services for John Smith, Sundell resident, who died Tuesday in the Munising hospital, will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at the Beaulieu funeral home.

Rev. Fr. G. F. Harrington, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, will officiate and burial will be made in the Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Smith, born April 4, 1889, in Antigo, Wis., left no survivors. He had been a resident of the Sundell area for the past 30 years.

UNEMPLOYMENT ON WANE HERE

Records Show Number Of Jobless Decreased Sharply

Total unemployment in the Manistique area, as reflected by the Michigan State Employment Service, has decreased approximately 33 per cent over that of the previous month. Records for the local area show that there are 93 persons currently jobless in Schoolcraft county as compared to 139 at the close of July. The current total includes 13 females, 58 veterans and 22 male non - veterans.

Numerous employer contacts were made during the month in an effort to develop job openings, James M. Damitz, manager of the MSES, states, but there was little labor demand evidenced by local employers. The majority of employers are operating at peak employment so that their hires are mostly for replacement purposes.

Although the U. S. Forestry Service will provide temporary employment for several weeks, the termination of other seasonal employment will probably increase the number of jobless. This will be partially offset by the number of veterans going to school in the very near future.

Mr. Damitz urges all local employers to place their job openings with the employment service by calling phone 659 in Manistique on Thursdays from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. or by writing MSES, 1323 Ludington street, Escanaba.

Lions Club Will Install New Signs At River Bridge

Attractive signs, calling attention to Manistique's "floating bridge," will again be placed at vantage points on that unusual structure. The Manistique Lions club, at its Tuesday meeting voted to have the signs made, replacing some taken down about a year ago because of indignities received at the hands of uncivic minded youngsters.

The bridge once came to the attention of Robert Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame and it was featured by him in one of his illustrated articles.

The signs will contain the information featured in the Ripley article, namely:

"The road across this syphon bridge is below the level of the river. This design results in the river helping support the bridge. Built by the Manistique Pulp and Paper company, a subsidiary of the Mead corporation, to create power to operate turbines and pulp grinders.

"The bridge was built in 1919; length 300 feet; width 60 feet.

"The flume—length 3090 feet; width, 200 feet; depth, 20 feet. Drainage area, 1,400 square miles. Rate of flow, 650,000 gallons per minute."

LOCAL FACULTY UNDERSTAFFED

Volunteers Will Supply The Need Until Full Staff Is Secured

Manistique high school will start its fall term understaffed to the extent of the two regular teachers usually assigned to teach French, mathematics and history. These classes, however, are to be taken care of temporarily by qualified persons not in the teaching field who have consented to assist as members of the faculty until regular teachers are available.

The part - time teachers so arranged for are John Kelly, A. B., Michigan State college, U. S. history; Mary Dean, U. of Michigan, French; John Matthews, A. B., Ferris Institute, mathematics.

Monday morning classes start at 8:15 in the senior and junior high school and in the grades at 8:45. Kindergarten and first grades will be dismissed at 11:10 a. m. and 3:10 p. m. The Lakeside kindergarten will be in session in the mornings and the Central kindergarten in the afternoons.

A bus will pick up the Riverside kindergartners at 12:45 at Riverside school and return them at 3:45. Riverside first graders may ride on this bus.

Students entering junior or senior high school should bring book deposit money—$1 for junior high and $2 for senior high students. This deposit entitles a student to free text books for his full course in junior or senior high school, subject to charges for loss or excessive wear and tear due to lack of proper care of the books.

Optical instruments using new type reflectors, such as some telescopes, will produce clearer images by use of new aluminum-coated glass mirrors with the metal on the front face.

Juggled Pop Fly Costs Yanks 5-4 Defeat At Hands Of Senators

BALL FUMBLED ON TIED SCORE

New Yorkers Knot Count With 4-Run Rally Off Masterson

Washington, Sept. 4 (AP)—Third Baseman Bill Johnson's seventh inning bobble of a pop fly cost the New York Yankees a 5-4 defeat by the Washington Senators here tonight after the Yankees had produced a 4-run rally off Walter Masterson to tie the score in the seventh inning.

Joe Page, who replaced Rookie Vic Raschi in the seventh, was dealt his seventh defeat after Johnson fumbled Eddie Yost's pop fly starting Washington's seventh. Buddy Lewis sacrificed and Yost moved to third on a wild pitch after Tom McBride fanned. Mickey Vernon walked but Stan Spence's single to center scored Yost before Jerry Priddy popped to Johnson.

Joe DiMaggio launched New York's seventh inning rally with a home run, his 18th of the season. George McQuinn walked and Johnson rapped a hit off Yost's glove. Aaron Robinson then singled to right, scoring McQuinn, and when Lewis fumbled Johnson also scored and Robinson continued to third.

Lonnie Frey scored Robinson and shifted to third when Phil Rizzuto beat out a bunt. Bobby Brown batted for Raschi and Frey scored with the tying run after Brown flied to Sherry Robinson in leftfield. Rizzuto took second when George Stirnweiss grounded out and Tommy Henrich was passed purposely, but Johnny Lindell lined to Priddy.

Priddy's single with the bases loaded scored Yost and Lewis to shoot the Senators into a 2-0 lead against Raschi in the first inning. Spence's double after Lewis had singled and Vernon walked in the fifth boosted Washington's advantage to 4-0.

Masterson, who limited the Yankees to eight hits, registered his 11th victory.

Perronville Plays Bark River Sunday

Bark River, Sept. 4.—Bark River will conclude its season with an exhibition game here next Sunday afternoon against the Perronville nine. The latter was defending champion this year in the Cloverland Baseball league. Stephenson and Menominee play off for the Cloverland title in Menominee next Sunday.

BARK RIVER BASEBALL TEAM—Pictured above are personnel of the Bark River baseball team, managed by Russ Simmons, which was a potent factor all season long in the Cloverland league pennant chase. Every team in the league had plenty of respect for Bark River. Members of the team are, top row left to right: Gerald Kositzky, catcher; Stanley McInnis, third base; Bernard Kleiman, rightfield; Robert Douglas, shortstop, and Manager Simmons. In the bottom row, left to right, are Clarence Kleiman second base; Morris Flynn, infield; Leo Knauf, catcher; Nick Brayak, pitcher and outfield; Louis Derocher, outfield; Danny Bergman, outfield, and Francis Courville, first base. Missing from the picture are Philip Norman, infield, and Lloyd Olson, who cavorts in the outfield.

Highland Women's Title Captured By Mrs. Roger Moras

Mrs. Roger Moras won the women's championship of the Highland Golf club, defeating Mrs. Elmer Swanson in the 18-hole finals.

Mrs. Helen Johnson was winner of the beaten four, and Mrs. Max Saums copped the consolation title, with Mrs. Leo Duty runner-up.

First flight honors went to Mrs. Charles Johnston, who defeated Mrs. Gladys Hansen in the finals. Winner of the beaten four was Mrs. Einar Beck, and Mrs. Babe Bowden copped the consolation, defeating Mrs. Helen Cayen in the consolation finals.

Bridge prizes awarded in conjunction with the annual golf meet were as follows: Mrs. Carl Friets, first; Mrs. Ed Schwartz, second; Mrs. George Walter, Mrs. Wes Hanson, Mrs. Harold Norris and Mrs. Irene Savard, mystery prizes.

Mrs. Savard was elected general chairman for next year. Other officers elected were Mrs. Max Saums, golf chairman; Mrs. Edna Bowles, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Carl Friets, bridge.

U. P. Pro-Amateur Golf Meet Here Next Monday

Something new in golfing entertainment will be offered at the Escanaba Golf club next Monday afternoon when the first annual U. P. pro-amateur foursome tuornament is held on the local course.

In this event, one professional and three amateurs will comprise one team and compete against other similar quartets, with the low aggregate constituting the winning score.

Cotton Leonard, Escanaba professional, who originated the meet, is desirous of building it into an event of peninsula-wide interest.

At least four teams will compete this year. Entries have been received from Marquette, Ishpeming and Blaney Park, in addition to the Escanaba team.

Cotton will join forces with Harry Hogan, Elmer Swanson, jr., and Don St. Cyr. Rud Leonard, Marquette pro, will enter with Dr. Robert Berry, Bill Connors and Tony Miluches, and the Ishpeming Wawonowin team will consist of Professional Warren Farley and Amateurs Keith LeClair, John Bennett and C. Grigg.

The Blaney Park entry is Spence Pohlman, Blaney Park pro, of the Ishpeming ski-jumping Pohlman family; Don Feller, two-time U. P. champion; Tony Cass, Escanaba par-shooter, and Bruce Christensen, Menominee ace.

BROOKLYN LEAD GIVEN BUILDUP

New York, Sept. 4 (AP) — Little Vic Lombardi, a Giant killer from way back, defeated New York for the 11th time in 12 starts over a three-season span tonight with a five-hit 2-0 victory that boosted the Brooklyn Dodgers National league lead to 6½ games over the idle St. Louis Cardinals.

Jackie Robinson's first-inning double off Andy Hansen followed by Pete Reiser's single and Arky Vaughan's force of Reiser at second base added up to an early Brook score.

That slender lead was the difference in a tight duel between Lombardi, who has won nine of 11 since the All-Star game, and Hansen, a non-winner this season. Pee Wee Reese, returning to the lineup for the first time since Aug. 23 when he was sidelined with spike wound, made it 2-0 with his 11th homer of the year into the left field stands in the seventn inning.

Buddy Kerr thrilled the turnout of 49,203 fans at the Giants' last home night game, by opening the ninth with a double. After Bobby Thomson flied to left field, Johnny Mize banged into a double play on a liner to Robinson who threw to Reese in time to nab Kerr for the game-ending out.

Bowler On Chicago Team Has No Hands

Chicago, Sept. 4, (AP) — Harold Bork, 32, is a regular member of a bowling team although he has no hands.

An Army veteran who lost both hands on Saipan, Bork has designed a device that enables him to bowl with a regulation ball.

The device is a rod that screws into a finger holes, protruding from the top so he can grasp it with his hook. When he swings the ball forward and releases the hook, the rod snaps back inside the finger hole so it does not interfere with the course of the ball.

He rolled lines of 112, 115 and 120 his last time out.

His next project is to round up a number of amputees in the Merchandise Mart, where he is employed, and have an all-amputee team.

Bork, married and the father of a six-months-old son, is employed as a [illegible]archer in the archives section of the U. S. treasury department. Before the war he was a lithographer.

Tournament Taken By Coyne Garage

Coyne's Garage took the championship in the midget softball league tournament last night by defeating Peninsula Home Service, 9 to 4. A triple by Bill Williams in the first inning started off the Coyne victory. The champions previously won a tournament game from Halvorson's Shop on a forfeit.

The schedule follows:

Sept. 5—Ishpeming at Ishpeming.

Sept. 19—Negaunee at Negaunee.

Sept. 26—Gladstone at Manistique.

Oct. 4—Newberry at Newberry.

Oct. 10—Munising at Manistique.

Oct. 17—Soo at Manistique.

Oct. 24—Marquette at Marquette.

Loss To Reds, 7-5, Puts Bucs Deeper In League Cellar

Pittsburgh, Sept. 4, (AP)—A pair of home runs by shortstop Eddie Miller sparked Cincinnati's 10-hit attack today as the Reds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5, to drive the Bucs deeper into the National league cellar.

The Bucs took an early lead in the game on homers by Wally Westlake and Dixie Howell, but a six run up-rising for the Reds in the third put them ahead for kees. The visitors batted completely around and knocked the Pirates' starting pitcher, Mel Queen out of the box.

Harry Gumpert, who relieved Ed Lively in the last of the third after the Pirates had scored a run was the winning moundsman.

A paid attendance of 3,682 was augmented by a ladies' day crowd of 2,998.

Powers

Bridal Shower

Powers, Mich.—Miss Helen Benette was the honor-guest at a bridal shower, held in the Kell auditorium at Wilson, Monday evening. The guests enjoyed a few hours of spaghetti contests and later the bride-elect opened and displayed her gifts. She was the recipient of an array of pretty and useful gifts. Lunch was served by the committee in charge. Singing and dancing formed part of the evening's entertainment by the oldtimers who could wear their fashionable dresses of yesteryear (25 years).

Miss Benette will be maried on Sept. 13 to Mr. Thomas McEwen, of Chicago.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pintal and two sons of Escanaba spent Friday at the Theo. Fazer home.

Mrs. Edith Rosenquist and Mrs. Ethel Larson of Escanaba visited with relatives on Monday.

Theodore Fazer was a Menominee visitor Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Eastberg and daughter Donna of Menominee visited with relatives and friends in Wilson and Spalding over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kell jr., of Menominee, spent Monday at the Earl Kell home this township.

Miss Helen Benette arrived home Saturday evening from Chicago to visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benette, Wilson.

Miss Gwendolyn Bagley left Sunday for Midland, Mich., where she will teach physical education in the junior high in that city.

Locke Of South Africa Is World's Top Golfer

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

New York, (NEA.)—Lew Worsham won the U. S. Open, Big Jim Ferrier the PGA, but among men who know the shotmakers best it's Bobby Locke and no contest.

The Johannesburg stylist's record 68-66-67-67—268 in the Canadian Open in Toronto strengthened his case, of course, but American professionals knew he had all the shots when in South Africa last winter he took 14 of 18 matches from Samuel Jackson Snead.

Everything the beknickered Locke had done since has added to his luster. It is well said of him, his game shines like the diamonds of his native land.

Flying 9000 miles with Sam Snead, he shot 289 in the Augusta Masters, which went to Jimmy Demaret for the second time with 281. He has won five of 10 tournaments since he arrived from South Africa, Apr. 1—the Houston Open, the Goodall Round Robin, the Philadelphia Open, the Chicago Tam o' Shanter for the world's largest purse and the Canadian Open. There has been nothing like that since Demaret copped six of nine one winter, winding up with his first Masters.

Locke's matchless consistency has grossed $18,600 which leaves him only $200 behind Ben Hogan as the year's foremost money-winner, and the Little Chocolate Soldier has participated in 10 more tournaments. Hogan has bagged four tournaments this year, Demaret three.

Locke's performance in the U. S. Open was highly creditable — three strokes back, tied for third with Porky Ed Oliver.

Old-timers call Locke the finest golfer to visit these shores from the other side since the immortal Harry Vardon and Big Ted Ray. American professionals and keener students of the Royal and Ancient now recognize him as the world's best.

"He's a wonder," says Craig Wood.

Locke is here to stay, too. South Africa and the British Isles were nothing like this. He will ask for an extension of his stay, is preparing to take out citizenship papers.

Locke, a modest, personable chap of 29, is a big fellow, close to six feet, weighing 190 pounds. He has a red face and a bit of a double chin. He is married and the father of a four-year-old daughter.

Bobby Locke calls his shots.

He has been a professional for nine years, but five-and-a-half years of that were spent as a Liberator pilot in the Royal Air Force. He was all through Italy—everything.

Locke's slow, rhythmic swing is remindful of that of Macdonald Smith. He is individualistic, takes the club back differently, makes a loop at the top of the swing. Locke sweeps the ball, hits it cleanly. Pouring on the power, our players are inclined to punch the ball. With the South African, there is no effort or strain.

The bulk of American players just walk up there and hit the ball. Locke looks down the fairway, picks out a spot, plays for position. He has the perfect golfing temperament.

Bobby Locke is exerting and will further wield a tremendous and happy influence on American golf.

HOMER EDGES TIGERS, 2 TO 1

Jeff Heath Connects In First Inning; Detroit Held To 5 Hits

Detroit, Sept. 4. (AP) — Jeff Heath's 25th homer of the season, a two-run smash into the upper right field stands after Johnny Berardino had walked in the first inning, was all young Fred Sanford of the St. Louis Browns needed today as he spaced five hits—all singles—to beat the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1.

Sanford, winning a pitching duel with Freddie Hutchinson, nursed a four-hit shutout into the ninth, when the Tigers scored their only run, an unearned one, on Vern Stephens' boot, a stolen base by Walter (Hoot) Evers and Hutchinson's second hit of the game, a single that caromed off Sanford's shins into left field.

Until then the Tigers had advanced just one man as far as third and only three others as far as second.

Hutchinson hurled a seven-hitter only to be charged with his 10th defeat.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

How does that song go? "You really started something when you looked into my eyes!"

* * *

Oscar Wassberg, Negaunee athletic mentor, really started something when he looked right squarely into the eyes of the MHSAA and organized the Upper Peninsula all-star football game last summer.

* * *

You know the story. U. P. coaches and officials handled it last summer. The MHSAA backed into the picture. Wisconsin coaches and officials handled it this summer under the sponsorship of the Negaunee recreation committee.

* * *

Could it be that the idea is spreading to Lower Michigan, which, we understand, is where MHSAA bigwigs hang their hats?

* * *

It could be! We give you Wendell Emery, a Grand Rapids high school football coach, who took his vacation in the Upper Peninsula and found time to stop in Negaunee the night of Aug. 16 to see the U. P. all-star high school charity grid tilt.

* * *

Wendy thinks such a get-together in the lower peninsula would not be amiss. In fact, the fans and players might like it. As it has been pointed out several times, they are the ones who enjoy and play the game.

* * *

It has been suggested that US-27 in Lower Michigan be the dividing line, or East vs. West instead of North vs. South as is the case in the latitudinal Upper Peninsula.

* * *

That would pit Saginaw, Bay City, Flint, Detroit, Pontiac and Jackson all-stars against Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Grand Haven, Battle Creek, etc.

* * *

"Naturally, the site should be Grand Rapids, and why not throw in a coaching school at the same time?" suggests Lendy Davis, a sports columnist with the Grand Rapids Press.

* * *

To which we add: "Why not?"

* * *

OFF THE CUFF: Iggie Nelson, People's Bar softball manager, is nobody's monkey! . . . As manager, he put himself in the cleanup slot Wednesday night against the Paper Mills in a city softball tournament game . . . And what happened? . . . Iggie just led his team to victory with four hits in four times at bat . . . To coin a phrase, that is really cleaning up.

WHITE SOX WIN IN TENTH, 4-2

Cleveland, Sept. 4 (AP)—A ninth-inning homer by Cleveland pinch-hitter Hank Ruszkowski forced the Chicago White Sox into an extra inning tonight before Ralph Hodgin sandwiched a double between two singles for the key blow in a two-run rally that beat the Tribe 4-2 in the tenth.

A crowd of 14,693 saw the Indians in their last night contest here. The victory went to Southpaw Ed Lopat as his 14th against 11 setbacks, while Bob Lemon was the loser.

Lopat scattered nine hits, and in the tenth, with the tying run on second base, fanned Hank Edwards and Pat Seerey for the final two outs. Cleveland's other run came in the third when Dale Mitchell tripled and scored on Seerey's fly.

Prior to their game-winning tenth-inning rally, the White Sox scored one run in the third and another in the sixth by bunching three singles in each frame. Mike Tresh, Lopat and Taft Wright poked the safeties for the first marker, and Wright, Dave Philley and Floyd Baker combined base hits for the second run.

SOFTBALL

VETERANS UPSET

Escanaba Township upset the VFW, 4 and 1, in a feature game at Memorial field last night. Francis Lancour pitched a three-hitter for the Township, with Harry Lancour catching. The VFW battery was Kositzke and D. Larson.

BIG SEVENTH

Scoring seven runs in the seventh inning, the Farmers Supply beat the Flat Rock juniors 11 and 4 in a prelim game at Memorial field. Batteries were: Farmers Supply, Weber and Ray Morin; Flat Rock, A. King and C. Barron.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, Sept. 4 (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes, arrivals 77, on track 181, total U. S. shipments 833; supplies rather light; demand good for red stocks, moderate for others; market firm to slightly stronger for reds, steady to firm for others; Colorado bliss triumphs, $3.35; Idaho-Oregon long whites, $3.65, russet Burbanks, $4.30; North Dakota bliss triumphs, $2.50; Washington long whites, $3.65 to $3.70; Wisconsin cobblers, $2.50 to $2.60.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Sept. 4 (AP)—Trading in slaughter lambs again attracted attention today with prices climbing 50 to 75 cents, and the freely paid top of $26.00 reaching the highest in nearly two months. Hogs were steady to 75 cents higher and cattle steady to weak.

Most good and choice hogs sold for $25.50 to $28.35 on the butcher grades and sows $21.75 to $25.25. The best price was $28.50. Shippers bought 1,000 of the 8,500 hogs on sale, packers receiving 5,000 additional on direct consignment.

Low-choice steers were the best of the market today at $33.75, with strictly choice heifers worth $32.50. Most Good to low-choice steers and yearlings ranged from $26.50 to $33.00 and heifers $26.00 to $31.00. Good beef cows topped at $20.50, heavy sausage bulls at $19.00, and vealers at $24.00.

Yearling lambs were around 50 cents higher, topping at $21.00, and slaughter ewes were steady to strong at $8.50 for good and choice natives.

Benefit Softball At Stephenson For Eddie DeLaurelle

Stephenson, Sept. 4—The Mid-County softball league is sponsoring a benefit entertainment here at 7 Tuesday evening, Sept. 9, for Eddie DeLaurelle. DeLaurelle broke his leg a few weeks ago while playing softball with the Daggett VFW team.

Two games will be played. The first will feature an all-star team from Lakes, Chalk Hills, and Daggett VFW and the other team will be an all-star team from Cedar River, Palestine and Stephenson. Escar Chaney is the manager of the first team. He is the manager of the Lakes team. Jack Bonville, who manages the Cedar River team will manage the second team.

The second game, the feature attraction of the evening will be between Wallace, Mid-County league leaders, and Daggett, runner-up. Sonny Shampo, speed ball pitcher, will probably toss for Wallace and Carl Jeske the ambidextrous pitcher will pitch for Daggett. Jeske throws equally well with either left or right hand.

'STIQUE PLAYS AT NEGAUNEE

Emeralds An Unknown Quantity But Show Promise

Manistique, Sept. 4—Manistique high school plays Negaunee under the lights at Negaunee for its first game of the season tonight.

The Emeralds enter the contest a strictly unknown quantity. Hilton Ponto, the new coach, when he took over on August 16, found that his squad contained comparatively few of last year's first string players and the team is therefore far from fully matured. He has pushed them hard in the meantime and Wednesday evening, under the lights for the first time, they showed up surprisingly well.

The team experienced one severe setback a week ago when Tony Weber, a senior, suffered a broken leg and will be out for the entire season. Tony was one of last year's most dependable players and his loss is keenly felt.

Don Dougherty, who plays quarterback position, is captain of this year's team. He will likely do most of the Emerald's passing. Jack Quick will likely do the punting.

Following is the probable lineup for Friday's game: Homer Weber, le; Bob Carlson, lt; Norman Jahn, lg; Everett Patz, c; Clyde Strassler, rg; Red Devine, rt; Lawrence LaMourie, re; Don Dougherty, qb; Jack Miner, rh; Dick Harbick, lh; and either Don Jackson or J. P. Quick, fb.

Spotted Five Runs, Phils Lose 6 and 5 To Boston Braves

Boston, Sept. 4 (AP)—Spotting the Phillies five runs the Boston Braves tonight scored two runs in each of three successive innings to edge the seventh place Philadelphia club 6-5 before 16,125 paid fans.

The Phils clubbed Bill Voiselle from the game in the opening inning when they put together a single, three doubles and an intentional walk for four runs. They added their fifth run in the third on one hit which came after a walk, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice.

The Tribe bounced back with two runs in the fourth, added two in the fifth and scored twice more in the sitxh to end the run making for the night.

Harry Walker made one of the outstanding catches of the season when he raced fully 90 feet to one-hand a tremendous drive by Earl Torgeson. Walker banged into the fence in deep right center, 390 feet from the plate, and fell flat on his back but held the ball.

Two were out at the time and three men were on base.

South's Crayfish To Be Destroyed By DDT

Washington — (SS) — DDT has had a new job found for it: killing crayfish.

To millions of Americans, crayfish (or "crawdabs") are merely little freshwater lobsters that steal bait off fishhooks, but on some of the South's best black farmland they are a worse crop pest than the locusts that smote Egypt.

Where the soil water-table is fairly close to the surface, they make burrows in the fields, living five or six to a burrow. A population of 25,000 to 50,000 crayfish per acre is nothing uncommon. On warm, rainy nights they come out of their burrows and gobble up anything they can find—of course giving preference to young cotton, soybean and grain plants.

Urged by frantic local appeals, scientists of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service sought a remedy. Various poisons dropped down individual burrows worked well, but were too laborious for large-scale use. DDT looked most promising; but how best apply it?

First practical suggestion was furnished by two Nego farmers, Ezell Orr and William Sanders, who knew from their own experience what crayfish liked best of all: cottonseed. So cottonseed were soaked in DDT solution and given field tests. It worked. Then it was found that an even cheaper bait —ground-up corncobs— would work just about as well.

To make and distribute DDT-poisoned bait for crayfish costs about $2 an acre. Large-scale use next year is expected.

U. S. production of motor vehicles in the first six months of 1947 totaled 2,357,476 units.
